Tompkins Plans Ryan Trial in December

Will Ask That Panel Of Jurors Be Drawn Appellate Division Backs Indictment; Rules Haver's Employees Must Testify

As a result of two major decisions handed down Tuesday by the Appellate Division affecting the Ulster County kickback probe, there appears a possibility that the Morgan D. Ryan bribery trial will be held next month. This morning Special Attorney General Bernard Tompkins stated he will submit to Justice

Henry Clay Greenberg an order for the summoning of a panel of trial jurors "at the earliest possible date" and proceed with the Ryan trial. Justice Greenberg is expected to be in Kingston Thursday.

One decision of the Appellate Division directs that two secretaries in the Office of Attorney N. LeVan Haver must accept subpoenas and appear before the special grand jury investigating corruption and graft in Ulster County, while the second decision holds that a three-count bribery indictment returned by the "regular" grand jury last August naming Morgan D. Ryan, is valid.

Tompkins Gratified

Special Attorney General Bernard Tompkins, in charge of the Ulster County probe, this morning issued the following statement in regard to the decisions of the Appellate Division:

"I am particularly gratified with the decision of the Appellate Division, unanimously upholding Mr. Justice Greenberg, who was appointed by Governor Rockefeller to preside over the extraordinary term of the Supreme Court to draw and summon a panel of trial jurors at the earliest possible date."

"With this decision it appears now that the road is clear for the trial. We are submitting an order to Mr. Justice Greenberg, who was appointed by Governor Rockefeller to preside over the extraordinary term of the Supreme Court to draw and summon a panel of trial jurors at the earliest possible date."

"The decision of the Appellate Division yesterday, upholding the grand jury's subpoenas on two employees of Attorney N. LeVan Haver, indicates clearly that the court will not permit any interference in the grand jury's inquiry into obstruction of justice in the course of its investigation."

10 Million Pounds Pure
"The very careful restrictions made by us on fresh berries also indicate that 10 million pounds of fresh cranberries in grocery stores are also entirely pure," Stevens added.

Traces of the weed killer, which have been found to cause cancer in rats, have been detected in some lots of cranberries.

This discovery prompted Fleming to caution the public last week on what he called the possible hazard in eating the favorite (Continued on Page 12, Col. 2)

Green Says N. Y. Fund Solvent

Denies Abuses Causing High Jobless Tax Rate

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Unemployment is the reason the unemployment insurance tax rate in New York is higher than some other states, not "abuses" as some employers claim, the director of the insurance program said today.

Those who give out-of-state employers the idea that firms in the program boost the cost of doing business in the state are doing New York a disservice at a time when it is trying to attract new industry, said Alfred L. Green.

Green, director of the State Labor Department's employment division, made the remarks in a speech prepared for delivery at a special meeting of Associated Industries of New York State.

Leads Criticism
The employer organization is one of the leading critics of aspects of the state's unemployment insurance program. Its two-day meeting, which began today, was called to discuss this issue.

Unemployment, Green said, "is why the tax rates in New York State are what they are—neither the lowest nor the highest but what is needed to provide for the risk that is insured against."

Green also told the employers they not only should compare

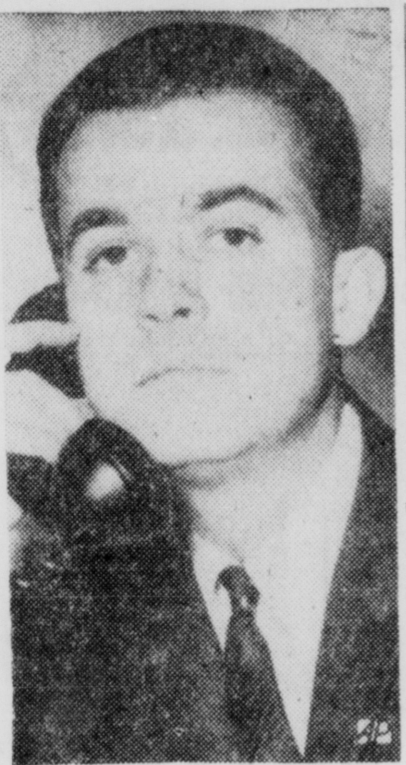

10,000 Gal. Tank Ready for City's Center Heat Plant

A 10,000 gallon fuel oil tank arrived here this morning from Buffalo and was due to be installed at the municipal heating plant near the city hall.

Because of shortages due to the long steel strike it was not expected to arrive for another three weeks but the Buffalo Tank Company apparently heeded the urgency of a recent letter by Mayor Edwin F. Radel.

Using Temporary Tank

Boss of Weights Fired, New Rules Due for Markets

NEW YORK (AP)—The city director of weights and measures was fired Tuesday in the midst of a spreading probe of butchers who cheat customers and city inspectors who help them do it.

The investigation under way before a Brooklyn Grand Jury was spreading not only to meat markets in other boroughs, but also to marketing practices in other retail food stores.

As reports of scale-rigging, pay-offs, phony advertising and false labeling of meats came out of the investigation, Mayor Robert F. Wagner took two major steps.

He fired Fred J. Loughran, director of weights and measures, and he ordered new rules and regulations drawn up for the Department of Markets.

He also said he is in favor of stripping the department of its present enforcement power over cheating retailers, so that they can be dealt with in the courts.

Loughran, a 47-year-old former court clerk who later became an aide to former Mayor William O'Dwyer and joined the markets department in 1946, appeared before the Brooklyn Grand Jury Tuesday.

After he was fired, Loughran said: "I cannot believe that Mayor Wagner did this based upon the correct facts. He must be misinformed. I have devoted my entire life to fighting fraud and corruption. I have never instructed anybody to stay out of any store. I have never in my official capacity done anything I was ashamed of."

Two arrests also have resulted from the probe—one of an inspector in Loughran's bureau, and another of an official of a poultry workers union.

The probe indicates that the bulk of customer-victims of rigged scales and other shady practices were in the city's low-income areas.

Kaplan said the cheating butchers were aided by a ring centering in the markets department, and that members of the ring allegedly took payments from retailers to ignore crooked scales.

Apple Marketing Order Is Scored by County Farmers

Ulster County Farmers Union members have protested the provisions of the Apple Marketing Order requiring growers to subsidize the advertising campaigns of the "middle man."

In a telegram sent to Don J. Wickham, Commissioner of Agriculture and Markets, Albany, the union set forth three reasons for the protest.

The Union contends that New York State chain stores are selling apples from Washington, Michigan and Canada, "the sales of which are being promoted with our money."

Farmers Union members further contend that they fail to see why they are taxed to advertise products which they do not produce or control, such as cider and apple sauce any more than the tobacco farmer is required to advertise different brands of cigarettes or the grape grower to advertise wine.

Through its acting secretary, Nancy Rice, of Newburgh, the union told Wickham it is convinced that the voting which brought about the marketing order was conducted in an "unfair and undemocratic manner."

The union charges that meetings were inadequately advertised, with insufficient time for discussion or explanation, and that voting was called at a season inconvenient for working farmers, and at locations requiring undue travel. The union further charges that the voting procedure was designed "to bring about a result wished by the state and by private farm organizations."

The farmers union further contends that any democratic polling of the farmers of the state would have resulted in the defeat of the proposition. The union bases that contention on its claim that it was made clear by the announced size of the vote, which represented far less than half of the New York State apple growers.

The union has called for the speedy institution of a democratic polling.

President Mulls Over Bid to HST May Accompany Ike on His Tour

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower is mulling over a proposal that he ask Harry S. Truman to go along on next month's good-will visit to three continents, a White House spokesman says.

Wayne Hawks, acting White House press secretary, told a news conference questioner Tuesday: "He has it under consideration, yes."

Suggested By Dodd
But one obvious obstacle in the way of turning the President and former President into traveling companions is that for seven years there hasn't been much good-will between them.

And a spokesman for Truman said in Kansas City that Truman knew nothing of the idea.

It was Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.) who suggested that Eisenhower make his 20,000-mile tour of 11 nations a bi-partisan affair. He wrote a letter to the chief executive Friday proposing that Eisenhower invite one or more Democrats experienced in international affairs.

In addition to Truman, the senator mentioned Dean Acheson, who was Truman's secretary of state; Adlai E. Stevenson, the loser to Eisenhower in the 1952 and 1956 presidential campaigns; and Rep. Chester Bowles (D-Conn.), a former ambassador in India.

India, with Red China glowering across her northern border, is a high priority point on the tour. (Continued on Page 10, Col. 5)

Hunter in Tree Taken for Bear, Is Critical Today

Jordan Parni, 56, of Route 1, Saugerties, who was shot out of a tree in a wooded area of the town of Saugerties Tuesday afternoon by a hunter who mistook him for a bear, was still in critical condition today at Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill.

Parni was hunting in the area when he decided to climb a tree to obtain better visibility.

Henry Balogh, 33, of RD 2, Walden, Orange County, mistook Parni for a bear and fired a .300 Savage rifle, according to state police.

The bullet struck Parni in the right leg and was deflected upward, rupturing his bladder and injuring his spine.

Balogh rushed to Parni's side when he fell. He then ran a half mile to Route 32 where he got a ride to a telephone and called for help. No charges were placed against Balogh.

Parni was carried from the woods in a canvas stretcher by members of the Citizens Hose Co. Rescue Squad of Catskill.

$8,212 Is Mailed To 469 Exhibitors

Checks totaling $8,212.25 have been mailed to 469 exhibitors at the 1959 Ulster County Fair.

Pratt Boice, treasurer of the Ulster County Agricultural Society, sponsors of the fair, made this announcement today. He requested that all those receiving checks cash or deposit them promptly. The reason being that all canceled checks must be forwarded to the State Department of Agriculture and Markets in Albany with the report of the fair.

The County Fair is held annually in August at Forsyth Park. It attracts thousands of visitors to Kingston. It is the only official county fair in New York State to which admission is free.

Agency Here Will Direct All Freight

ALBANY—The Public Service Commission today authorized New York Central Railroad to assign to its freight agent at Kingston full jurisdiction over all freight business on the 89-mile stretch of its Catskill Mountain Branch between Kingston and Kortright station.

As a result, the railroad may discontinue resident freight agents at West Hurley and Phoenicia in Ulster County, and at Arkville, Roxbury, Stamford and Hobart, in Delaware County.

The railroad is required, however, to continue the handling of carload freight at each of the six stations as well as at 11 carload-only non-agency freight stations now supervised by the local agencies which are to be terminated. It must also provide pickup-and-delivery service for less-than-carload freight shipments to and from Arkville, Margaretville, Phoenicia, Roxbury, Hobart, Stamford, Grand Gorge and West Hurley and accept collect telephone calls made by Catskill Mountain Branch freight patrons to the Kingston office.

To Have Assistants
At public hearings on the matter, the railroad said it would employ one or two assistant agents who would work under supervision of the Kingston agent and will make daily calls to freight patrons in each of the communities served by the branch.

With the changes authorized today, the railroad's Kingston freight office will become the freight service center for the entire Wallkill Valley Branch, 89 miles of the Catskill Mountain Branch and the portion of the West Shore Division extending from Highland north to Ravena.

The move is part of the railroad's overall program aimed at streamlining operations as an economy move without causing (Continued on Page 12, Col. 1)

APPROVAL IS AWAITED on the city's application for federal urban renewal assistance as applied for recently in New York (above) and it is hoped it will come before Jan. 1, Mayor Edwin F. Radel said today. The city has applied for a first sum, $67,000 to cover administrative and planning costs. It is possible, it was noted, that some revisions or slight changes in the application might be required before approval. The mayor (left) points to one of a set of preliminary plans submitted to Walter Fried, administrator of the Housing & Home Finance Agency, as Arthur Swaid, planning consultant of Raymond & May Associates, of Pleasantville, who are planning the local project, looks on.

Nikita Boasts of Missiles

One Factory Makes 250 Rockets Yearly, Claim

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev says one Soviet factory alone has turned out 250 rockets with hydrogen warheads in one year—enough to "raze all our potential enemies off the face of the earth."

Would Dump All
"You can well imagine that if this lethal weapon is exploded over some country there will be nothing left there at all," Khrushchev told a meeting of Soviet journalists. But the Soviet government is "ready to sink all this in the sea in the interests of ensuring peace on earth," he said, "if other countries will follow our example."

Khrushchev's speech was made Friday, but his text was not released until Tuesday night.

The Soviet leader said he was making public the rocket production figure to back up his 1958 announcement that the Soviets were turning out intercontinental ballistic missiles. He did not indicate whether the plant he referred to was producing all of the Soviets' nuclear-headed rockets.

"Some in the West claim that the Soviet Union has changed its policy and therefore it has become easier to talk with us," Khrushchev said. "This is wrong, of course. Communists we live and will not die but continue to march onward as Communists."

No. U. S. Comment

In Washington, the Defense Department had no immediate comment on Khrushchev's report on Soviet missile production.

It was not clear whether the Premier was referring to intercontinental missiles with a range of several thousand miles, or whether he was speaking of medium-range weapons with a range of about 700 miles.

12 KHS Seniors Receive Awards After NMS Test

Twelve seniors at Kingston High School have been cited for outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test last spring, and each has received a formal letter of commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Commended were Beverly J. Lewis, Patricia A. Sweeney, Mary E. Egbert, Frederick L. May, Carolyn J. Wendell, James S. Sims, Gary F. Nickerson, Andrew A. Dykes, Judith J. Schwarz, Kenneth D. Yates, Jeremiah C. Blair and Charles J. Pugliese.

Letters of commendation were awarded to approximately 27,000 students in the United States. While the students did not achieve the status of semi-finalists in the 1959-60 merit program, they are classified as outstanding.

The commended students were among 550,000 high school stu-

Dec. 10th Fixed for Reporting Grade Crossing Figure Included

A new estimated cost of $75,000 for removing the Washington Avenue viaduct was submitted Tuesday afternoon to Public Service Examiner Gerald W. Knapp shortly before the PSC hearing on the city's bid for razing the traffic bottleneck concluded.

The New York Central Railroad's 1955 estimate "exclusive of lands and damages" was $166,303.

Examiner Knapp said that submission of evidence and taking of testimony had concluded. He said he would await a seven-day traffic count to be taken at the viaduct by the city prior to Dec. 10 and then he will compile a report of the hearing and submit recommendations to the Public Service Commission for a decision.

To Count 7 Days

Before the hearing concluded, Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly told railroad attorneys and the examiner that the city would take a seven-day count of traffic to show how many trucks and passenger cars use the viaduct daily.

Examiner Knapp fixed Dec. 10 for transmitting copies of the traffic count to him.

E. S. Miller, special engineer of the railroad, who appeared at the hearing for Chief Engineer C. E. Defendorf, testified in direct examination by Schue that the project now under discussion originally had talked of as a grade elimination project in 1912. He noted that under the law the railroad would be required to pay 15 percent.

The approximate cost of removing the entire viaduct including earth fill, was estimated by Miller during questioning at $75,000.

May Not Need Detour

Under cross-examination by Corporation Counsel Kelly, Miller said that he had no definite information as to who would construct a temporary detour while the viaduct is demolished and a connecting paved road was constructed.

"Isn't it a fact that heretofore the railroad has made no objection to eliminating the viaduct if it would not cost the railroad any money?" asked the corporation counsel.

"Yes," replied Miller. Under further cross-examination by Kelly, Miller testified that no temporary detours would be necessary if other arteries and by-passes were completed before the demolition of the viaduct.

Asked by Kelly about the method of removing the viaduct as testified to earlier, Miller stated that the third method proposed was the most feasible and most practical. That method was to do the elimination work (Continued on Page 12, Col. 5)

House Probers to Check Practices of Song Idol

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—House investigators have come here to check information about the television practices of Dick Clark, idol of teen-agers.

The House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight announced the investigators' trip Tuesday. A spokesman said the information generally concerned the subcommittee's investigation of practices used to promote music.

The subcommittee announced recently that it would investigate payoffs to disc jockeys to play and promote records.

Clark's network issued a statement Tuesday night in New York. The American Broadcasting Co. said it had "examined all evidence available to us" on Clark's various shows and had concluded its investigation with "renewed faith and confidence in Dick Clark's integrity."

Clark, ABC went on, "has neither solicited nor accepted any personal considerations—money or otherwise—to have any performer appear—or to play any record—on any of his programs."

Clark declined all comment. Earlier, it was announced the 29-year-old TV star had been told by ABC to either give up his outside business interests or his television shows.

Clark rose quickly to fame with his nationally televised disc jockey show, "American Bandstand." He also is master of ceremonies on the Saturday night "Dick Clark Show" from New York and he appears on a Sunday panel show.

Clark dropped the business interests: One-third ownership in a Philadelphia record company, and interests in three music publishing companies.

ABC said Clark volunteered to divest himself of these interests in line with a new policy "whereby performers and others who select and play records will be required to divest themselves of all interests in the recording, music publishing and allied fields."

ABC said it is investigating all its disc jockey shows.

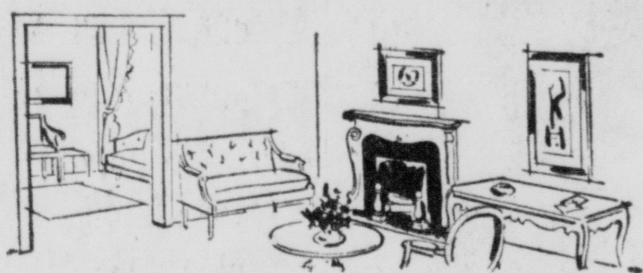

NO VISUAL DISTRACTIONS IN CLASS—Masks adorn the faces of these University of San Francisco students as the Rev. P. Carlo Rossi, S.J., conducts a class of basic essentials of foreign languages. "The masks allow a student to give all his attention to the drill,"

Father Rossi said. He conceived the idea on a plane trip when he was given a mask so he could sleep during daylight. "I found that all distraction was gone...I was able to concentrate," he added. (AP Wirephoto)

Nimrod Not Lost Spent Night in Abandoned Coop

DELHI, N. Y. (AP)—A young hunter who had been feared lost actually spent the night in an abandoned chicken coop and continued hunting the next day, unaware that he was being sought. Searchers found Paul Slavinski, 17, of Bloomville in Catskill foothills about eight miles north of this Delaware County community Tuesday. When he failed to return home Monday night a search was launched. In the Baxter Mountain area, about 25 miles from here, state police and volunteers continued a search today for Joseph Farilli, of White Plains. The search for Farilli, who was hunting began Tuesday afternoon. Among those searching for Farilli, 30, of White Plains, were members of his hunting party.

UTO Will Talk For Over 19,000 Phone Employees

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Telephone Organizations will continue to represent more than 19,000 New York Telephone Co. employees in New York City and five nearby counties.

The National Labor Relations Board announced Tuesday night the UTO had won over two AFL-CIO unions, the Communications Workers of America and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, in a representation election.

Ivan C. McLeod, regional director of the NLRB, said the UTO received 10,558 votes to continue as bargaining agent, while the CWA received 4,752 votes and the IBEW 1,589.

The workers are plant craftsmen and building and supply and clerical employees in New York City, Nassau, Suffolk, Westchester, Rockland and Orange counties. The UTO's contract with the company expires Dec. 20.

His Bill Would End Taxi Levy

NEW YORK (AP)—State Sen. MacNeil Mitchell said today he will co-author a legislative bill taking away the city's right to levy the 10-cent taxicab tax.

The measure, he said, will be taken up at a public hearing of the Senate Committee on New York City Affairs shortly after the Legislature convenes in January.

Mitchell, a Manhattan Republican, said Assemblyman Samuel I. Berman, Brooklyn Democrat, would join him in filing the bill.

Levitt Sees GOP Favoring Rocky As '60 Nominee

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, Democrat, thinks Gov. Rockefeller will defeat Vice President Richard Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination next year.

Levitt made the prediction Tuesday at a press conference. "The governor has an enormous power as a campaigner (and) attributes of great personal charm," Levitt said.

But he said the Democrats would win the 1960 elections.

He was here to address the annual convention of the state AFL-CIO.

Neither the governor nor the vice president has announced intentions to seek the nomination.

RETARDED CHILDREN'S WEEK

We all know of the tremendous advances medicine is making in combatting disease. Much of this great progress has been made because of the efforts of citizen groups working to bring public attention and public funds into the battle to fight these conditions and diseases.

A relatively new group has been formed to fight a condition which is one of man's oldest problems—Mental Retardation. This group is the Ulster County Chapter, Association for the Help of Retarded Children. They are completely concerned with the welfare of the retarded in our community.

This group is currently concluding a membership campaign in connection with National Retarded Children's Week—Nov. 16-27, to carry on their program. You may ask, "Why should we help them?"

The answer is plain to all of us. Mental retardation can strike anywhere, in any family. Of the 11,000 children born daily in the U. S.—more than 300 are destined to be, to some degree, mentally retarded. There are at present, more than 5,000,000 mentally retarded in our land.

These facts point up the great needs. The need for research to prevent mental retardation where possible. The need for training, educational and recreational facilities to help make a better life for the retarded. This we know is possible.

Your membership contribution will help.

JUST MAGIC, FOLKS

Albert Freedman, former producer of the rigged quiz show, "Twenty-One," has offered a fascinating rationalization of the fraud he and other perpetrated on the public. There was nothing wrong with the show, he now claims to believe, though answers were supplied contestants who supposedly were wrestling with questions all on their own.

The quiz shows, Freedman asserts, were not a "public utility," it wasn't as if civil service examinations were being conducted; the public wasn't paying admission prices. Furthermore, goes the Freedman rationalization, the rigging was all right because it was "good entertainment." No more deception was involved, according to his logic, than is employed by a magician when he saws a woman in half.

Except for the fact that when that happens the audience is aware of the magician's legions. Everyone knows it is a clever deception. The quiz show audiences were ignorant that deception, clever or otherwise, was involved.

Freedman admits the television industry to fight back and quit apologizing. He himself needs some advice: Quit rationalizing what was plainly wrong.

HALLECK'S ALL SET

The Republicans have to date no declared candidate for president, though there is a not unjustified feeling that Vice President Nixon or Governor Rockefeller could be persuaded to accept the nomination. The GOP does, however, have an announced candidate for the vice presidency.

This is Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, Republican floor leader in the House of Representatives. He is a pronounced conservative, which probably will not hurt him with the party leaders. Anyhow, he is all set to go.

Halleck might not like to have it said, but he is following a Democratic rather than a Republican tradition. Only two GOP nominees from Indiana have served as vice president, Schuyler Colfax under Grant and Charles W. Fairbanks under Theodore Roosevelt. Fairbanks ran again in 1916 with Hughes, but failed to make it. The Democrats, on the other hand, named Hoosiers for vice president three times in a row, in 1876, 1880 and 1884, and again in 1908, 1912 and 1916.

Still, Halleck may not have a bad chance, whoever heads the GOP ticket. His posi-

WHERE DO THEY DISAPPEAR TO?

Whereas we are told that the United States now has the largest labor force this country has ever known, and on the other hand, we are told that automation is rapidly reducing that labor force and that 3,200,000 persons are out of work—try to get a nurse.

Where have they disappeared to? Or where have competent typists disappeared to? Two evils of inflation are most clearly presented in the absurd picture of untrained young ladies demanding $60 and $70 a week for beginners' pay as office workers—the kind of girls who should pay their bosses for teaching them their jobs. Most such girls are college graduates and assume that four years in a college has given them a skill. It does not.

A nurse writes to me: "Would you encourage your daughter or a friend's daughter to spend 12 years in school, another 3 becoming an R.N. and another 2 to get a college degree for the complete disregard given their welfare and ability to live on a moderately decent scale?"

Frankly, no! I am encouraging my daughter to do a job that pays even less—to teach. But what she will actually do, I have no idea. Fathers no longer count in our feminist society.

The problem of inflation hit at all the professions and skills. Besides, the various government-provided securities paid out of taxes have given a status to the worker which is lowering morale because loyalty to a job, to a place, to an organization, to a firm is being replaced by what are quite correctly called fringe benefits. Nursing is a profession, requiring high skill and dedication. A life could depend upon the alertness of a nurse. I, who owe my added days to such skill, know how to value nurses. But how much can hospitals pay them?

My correspondent says: "What benefits, encouragement or pension plans are given to nurses? Just how do you figure a nurse saves to take care of herself when she can no longer serve? The R.N. has been put in the position of 'low man on the totem pole' and 50 per cent of them have climbed off."

Every word of this is true. I know of a nurse who quit a hospital which charged her for a blood test after she had performed an onerous duty which might have imperiled her life. That the administrator of that hospital was stupid is no excuse.

What needs to be done about nurses is for one of the Foundations to undertake an impartial, uninflected-by-hospital-administrators study of the present economic condition of nurses and their environmental conditions while on duty at hospitals.

It is true that a doctor must be in absolute control of the situation at all times; on the other hand, he need not be a tough guy. If a nurse cannot take orders, she should be fired but is that not also true of the doctor who does not know how to give orders?

One of the most curious facts of a nurse's life is the very poor food she gets in hospital cafeterias and dining rooms. Surrounded by dietitians and scientists, nurses are usually fed a filling, starchy diet which is, according to the same dietitians, unwholesome.

Inflation has made food expensive and it becomes a serious problem in a hospital. The cost of operating hospitals, particularly those supported by charity, could become prohibitive in an inflationary period. And a hospital is precisely the place where skimping and cutting corners ought not to be. Nurses, in particular, need to have the highest morale; they must feel that they are wanted and needed. Nurses must be alert; it is often the sharp eye of a nurse, her "sixth" sense that has saved a life by catching the "accident" in the treatment or in the patient that can cause death.

Such a person must not be dissatisfied. She needs to be chipper and cheerful and hopeful to serve her patient. Too much depends upon her attitude. Hers is a job of applied psychology all day long. It is a nerve-racking job and she should be decently paid for it.

How to do that in the present state of most hospitals? I think that that requires careful study not from the standpoint of what can be done but what should and must be done.

Checklist Suggests Regimen For Hypertensive Persons

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

The typical man with essential hypertension is a hard-working, hard-driving, over-conscientious fellow who's taken on weight as he has added responsibilities. The typical woman is an overweight matron who has devoted herself to the endless tasks of wife, mother, housekeeper and, at times, wage earner.

Curiously enough, the female tends to carry a much higher level of blood pressure than her male counterpart. And, even more curiously, she has relatively fewer strokes or heart attacks and rarely suffers invalidism or early death as a result of her essential hypertension.

Here are a few suggestions that may help the man or woman with essential or benign hypertension to live a completely normal life:

- Get rid of excess weight according to a simple dietary schedule I shall detail in a later column.
- Limit your intake of salt to the amount that's used in cooking. Don't salt your food at table.
- Find out what conditions in your life produce tension or fatigue. See what you can do to eliminate activities that get you riled, nervous or exhausted.

Sometimes you'll be surprised at the trifles that cause upset. Like golfers whose blood pressure, taken by doctors, rose to their highest levels when they putted. Not when they drove off the tee or harked away in the rough.

Discover the putting greens in your daily life.

- If you can't get rid of these tension-producing circumstances, learn to live with them. "What can't be cured must be endured," said Benjamin Franklin in his Poor Richard's Almanac.

"Learn to roll with the punch," is the more modern version.

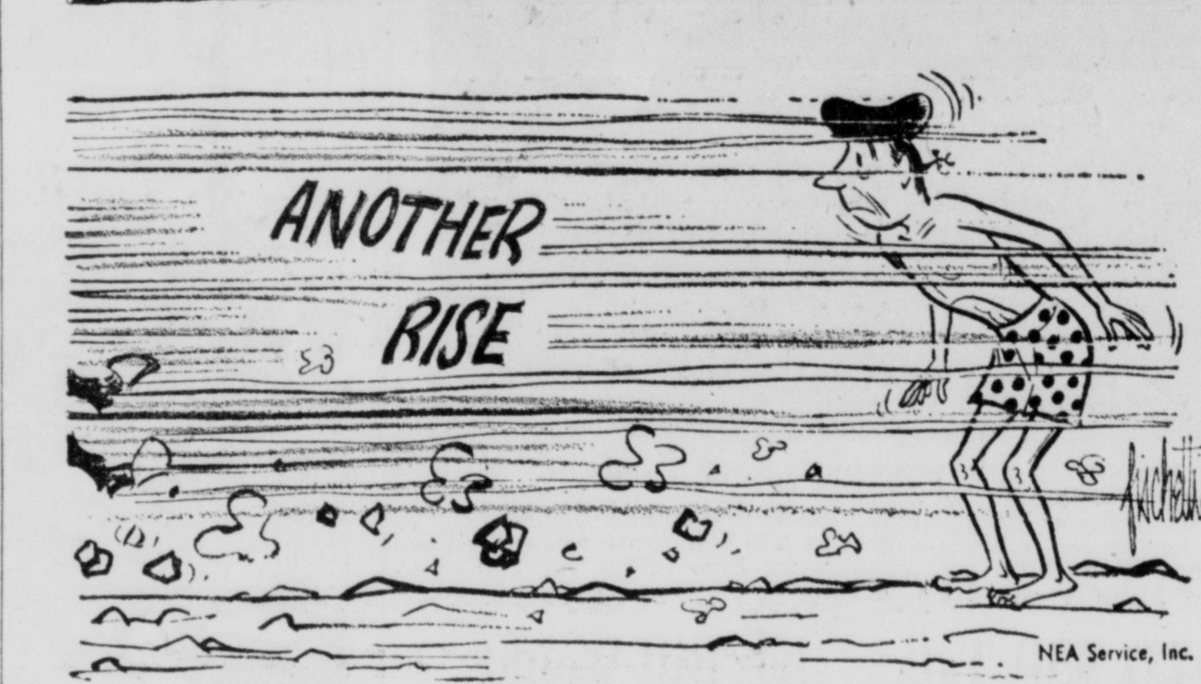

- Don't insist on a blood pressure reading at each office visit. Your doctor may have deliberately omitted taking your pressure because he suspected he'd get a false reading.
- Don't keep a chart of your blood pressure readings. They're apt to bounce like a golf ball.
- Don't go doctor shopping. A strange doctor may clock you 20 to 50 points higher than your family physician.

And finally, don't think your doctor's an old fogey if he's unwilling to expose you unnecessarily to the side effects of powerful drugs, punish you with a highly restricted diet or refer you for extensive surgery that may interfere greatly with your ability to earn your living. Please respect his decision to treat you, his patient, and not the mercury column or the dial of his blood pressure gadget.

His calm appraisal of your problem may be poor "selling" of medical "wares," but it's a fine example of preventive medicine in your behalf.

tion as a well known Congressional figure, and his residence in the doubtful state of Indiana, give him a head start on the vice presidential nomination.

The Moment of Truth

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — An irate woman-type citizen wrote the U. S. Treasury the other day to complain about the new, so-called "Buy American" policy announced by Development Loan Fund, which makes soft loans to underdeveloped countries.

In an effort to get this complicated subject down to understandable terms, the lady posed this question:

If a man is in the hospital and you want to help him, would you send him money on the condition that what he needs to get well be bought only in your store?

This made a pretty good point if you translate the parable by thinking of the sick man as an underdeveloped country and the help you give him as U. S. dollars from the Development Loan Fund.

Treasury officials thought this was a good illustration. Only they thought the lady's parable didn't correctly state the condition they are trying to correct.

So another parable was thought up to give the Treasury version of what is going on. It boils down to this:

SUPPOSE A MAN in an underdeveloped country has polio. And suppose further that he writes a letter to some friend he knows in the United States, to the effect, "I need help. Please send me some money."

But the U. S. friend is a practical cuss, so he writes back: "What you need is an iron lung, which you can't get in your country. I'll get you one here and send it. You don't have to pay me for it now. But after you have fully recovered and feel you can send me a little something from time to time—in your money—you can pay for it."

But the sick man answers, "No, I don't want your iron lung. You send me the money and I'll buy a German iron lung, which is cheaper."

There was a time when the friend would have done this. But over the last 10 years he has had so many requests of this kind that he doesn't feel he can keep on doing it forever.

So he writes another letter to the effect of: "I'm sorry, but I can't help you in this way. If you want a German iron lung, you write to some friend in Germany and get him to send you one directly." End of parable.

IN OBVIOUSLY GREAT OVERSIMPLIFICATION, this is said to be the position in which the United States is at last finding itself on foreign economic aid programs.

From 1950 to 1956 the U. S. balance of payments in gold and dollars received from foreign countries ran about a billion dollars a year behind payments to foreign countries. This wasn't considered serious.

It was corrected in part during the Suez Canal crisis in 1957, when the U. S. sold a lot of oil to Europe.

Then in 1958, when the European industrial countries and Japan began to recover from the war, the U. S. showed a 3.5-billion dollar balance-of-payments deficit. This year it will be close to four billion dollars.

FEARING THAT THIS DEFICIT may become worse if undeveloped countries continue to spend dollars they borrow from the U. S. in other industrial countries, a first step has been taken to correct it. This is to ask the borrowing countries to spend their dollars in the United States.

If borrowers don't want to do that, then they can borrow directly from England, France, Germany, Italy, Benelux, Scandinavia or Japan for what they desire to purchase from those countries. Interestingly enough, these other countries approve this action as necessary to preserve the soundness of the dollar.

The purpose of this move is not just to increase U. S. exports, but to help develop new sources of credit and capital for the underdeveloped countries. The demand is so great that the U. S. can't supply it all.

Sorry, No Dough

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Carl Zimmermann, a service station owner, deposited his weekend receipts at a bank and walked onto the bank parking lot. A masked, armed bandit jumped from behind a car and demanded money.

"Sorry, but I just deposited the money," Zimmermann said. "Come on, hand it over," the bandit pleaded. Zimmermann showed him the two empty money bags. The man was convinced. He ran to a waiting car driven by another masked man and escaped.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The taste and morals of American periodical and journalism have gone on a sharp downward trend. The Saturday Evening Post, Look and other slicks of like renown have published studies, amounting, altogether, to eulogies of Mickey Cohen, George Raft, Drew Pearson, Gypsy Rose Lee, Harry S. Truman, and now Jimmy Roosevelt, whose mother's inexhaustible lode of memories is mined of new bonanzas every second or third year with little consistency and serene indifference to know truth.

This must be the taste and moral standard of the American people to whom other nations look with resignation for a code of ideals to rebuke the Kremlin.

Otherwise, why would the Americans buy it?

The ailon of the Roosevelt dynasty, a bald eagle now, has compiled a treasury of anecdotes which I am forced to commend to the serious student of The Perfidy which transposed Virtue and Vice. Jimmy's discussion of the happy days when papa spent aboard Vincent Astor's private ocean liner, Nourmahal, early in the reign, illuminates a political phase of the regime which was overlooked in the hurry and innocence of the world in those times. It may be remembered that Roosevelt cruised aboard this fabulous extravaganza in two gaudy affronts to the necessity and fears of the common man became his humble protégé in 1932. Hitler had the same honest contempt for self-denial and humility.

Nourmahal was built to put J. P. Morgan in his place. Morgan said any man who had to inquire what it cost to run a yacht couldn't afford it.

Vincent Astor certainly could. But in Roosevelt's time, taxes became a serious problem and Astor dissociated himself from the economic royalists to propitiate his baronial neighbor in Dutchess County. He gave $35,000 to the Democratic campaign fund and at least moved his lips in the long refrain of "Happy Days Are Here Again." Roosevelt's equivalent of the wobbles "Pie in the Sky."

Astor came of a long line of rakes and bounders. He and Roosevelt shared a blood stream and a subliminal heredity. When, in 1933, the constant moocher was ready to relax from the strain that destiny had imposed he tied loose on a lolling souse-party on the Nourmahal off Miami. The charter cost would have been a quarter-million each time. But Astor piped him and quietly withdrew his own presence.

Nourmahal was 264 feet long. She could cruise 20,000 miles. She had a log fireplace in her library. She had a crew of 42. Wages, insurance, food, uniforms, gear and soap cost $125,000 a year, tied up. The additional cost of fuel, food and booze for a passenger list of deserving Democrats would be trivial by comparison, although to millionaires no cost is trivial. That scrupulousity makes millionaires.

In a letter to me in 1955, Astor denied that the taxes had commingled with admiration in his motives when he offered Roosevelt his liner, not once but twice. He gave a thin-lipped answer when I asked whether Roosevelt or the government paid rent or any part of the crew's wages for this exclusive use of one of the most expensive luxuries in the world.

After all, Ham Fish, as the local congressman, had charged that the Treasury paid Roosevelt's mother for the use of her home as a "summer White House" and the general accounting office had refused to come clean. The suspicion becomes more reasonable as the Roosevelt's blab their family secrets always at a price. Astor retorted that, of course, a gentleman did not charge his guests. I inquired further how he might know that. I got only supercilious silence for my answer, and I was not exactly crushed when two years ago a mutual friend, bidden to Astor's place at Phoenix, naively asked him to invite Mr. Pegler, and he wouldn't.

"I am glad to tell you," Astor wrote in his earlier letter, "that of course no compensation was received. Mr. Roosevelt's half-brother was my uncle and from my earliest boyhood I regarded him as a close and loyal friend. (There were other blood ties through the line of Warren Delano, the Hong Kong opium smuggler.) He was treated the same as any other guest. Naturally, I was proud to fly the

Lesson Drawn in Expulsion Of U. S. Reporter by Poland

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — When the Red China regime refuses to permit American newsmen to enter that country, there is a big hullabaloo, but when the Communist leader who runs Poland sends an American newsmen home because his dispatches aren't written to suit the government, there's relatively little noise in protest.

One would think that the "right to know" crusaders in our country would be so incensed they would be organizing demonstrations of disapproval.

One would suppose that this exhibition of what Communist tyranny really means would raise doubts as to how there can be "peaceful co-existence" in an atmosphere of suspicion, and of what benefit "cultural exchanges" can be when truth is suppressed.

One would suppose, too, that throughout the United States many of the persons who were taken in by the sugar-coated words spoken by Nikita Khrushchev during his visit to America would be taken aback by this evidence of Communist double-talk.

For of what avail is it to argue for closer relations with Communist countries when the main vehicle of communication—the press—is sabotaged?

The Soviet leader boasted of the superiority of "communism" over "capitalism." But not a word of hope did he ever give out that the peoples living under the Communist system would have a press that could print the truth about public affairs.

The expulsion of A. M. Rosenthal, correspondent for "The New York Times" in Poland, was brought about by Vladimir Gomulka, the Polish Communist boss. The foreign office spokesman in Warsaw, acting under Gomulka's instructions, said to Mr. Rosenthal:

"The question of falseness or otherwise does not enter. You have written very deeply and in detail about the internal situation, party matters and leadership matters, and the Polish government cannot tolerate such probing reporting."

And what had Mr. Rosenthal written? Here is an excerpt: "Always moody and irascible, Mr. Gomulka is more withdrawn these days and seems hotter-tempered than ever. He is said to have a feeling of having been let down—by intellectuals and economists he never had any sympathy for anyway, by workers... by suspicious peasants..."

"M. Gomulka has made it clear that he thinks there has been too much liberalism among the intellectuals, too much interest in Western ways..."

"More than ever since 1956 there are barriers between M. Gomulka and some of the men who are important in his party. M. Gomulka runs the Polish Communist ship, but it is not a happy one."

Must Please Reds

This was a story of friction inside the government. In America and Britain and France and Italy, where there's a free press, differences of opinion can be reported without fear of punishment. But the Communist concept is that what a foreign correspondent writes must always be pleasing to the powers that be. Indeed, the Soviet government doesn't allow any correspondents to remain in residence in Moscow unless their dispatches to the rest of the world satisfy the Communist regime.

Foreign publications whose editorials are very critical of the Soviets are not permitted to have correspondents regularly behind the Iron Curtain. Careful scrutiny of all applications for visas is made by the Soviet Foreign Office, which says in effect, that unless a correspondent slants his news dispatches or broadcasts to suit the Communists or omits mention of facts unpleasant to the Communists, he cannot remain. There have been instances in which correspondents who went home for a vacation were not allowed to return. This device is used to shroud in secrecy the refusal of a visa.

The facts are available to show that the Communist regime in Moscow not only doesn't believe in a free press but makes sure that the "captive" states don't permit truthful and comprehensive reporting.

Free News Essential

Yet, if misunderstandings are to be removed and war is to be prevented, free communication through the press and radio is most essential. It is the only effective way to keep the peoples on both sides of the Iron Curtain informed.

Poland was supposed to be steering a somewhat independent course. The world has been told that Gomulka is walking a tightrope and is trying to preserve close relations with the West so that loans and aid from this country might be continued. But, as "The New York Times" said editorially the other day, M. Gomulka's incredibly foolish, utterly self-defeating action has only made Poland's difficult situation infinitely more difficult. For he does not seem to realize that the more accurate the knowledge in the outside world of what makes Poland really tick, the more sympathetic understanding the world will have of the position of the Polish people." standard of the Commander in Chief.

Jimmy wrote that Roosevelt swarmed aboard with a whole crew of scoundrels and ran the ship to his own whim. The guest ran up his own flag and became master. Astor had reason to hope that the internal revenue would take it easy and Roosevelt had the power to do the handsome thing in return.

In 1930, Astor offered the ship to Al Smith, who turned him down cold. The iron boat to Coney Island and the night boat to Albany were his class.

In 1935, Astor tried Roosevelt with another invitation. Roosevelt said the trip would not justify the cost of putting Nourmahal in commission. Astor said she was "always in commission." Roosevelt topped that. He said then "We will have to raise the taxes of the rich."

Astor turned his neighbor's picture toward the wall. They never spoke again as they passed by.

HOME OWNERSHIP IN THE U.S.

The Mortgage Picture:

NATION OF HOMES—The home-building boom that began after World War II, and which is still going strong, is reflected in the figures shown in Newsmap above. Fifty-eight per cent of America's families—not living on farms—own their homes today. Almost half of them have no mortgage debt outstanding. Ten years ago, only 51 per cent of nonfarm families were homeowners. More than half the homes are valued by their owners at between $5,000 and $15,000; the average for all homes is $12,900. Of those homes with mortgages, the average debt is $6,600. Data from National Industrial Conference Board.

Soaring Population Regarded Threat to Health of Millions

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Public Health Assn. today termed soaring population growth a threat to the health of millions, and called for more attention to the means of regulating family size.

The problem should be an integral part of civic health programs the association said.

First Policy Statement

In the first policy statement ever made on the subject by the 87-year-old professional society, it said: "The public health profession has long taken leadership in defeating disease, disability and death. It must now assume equal leadership in understanding public health implications of population imbalance and in taking appropriate action."

The 13,000-member association includes public health officials at community, state, national and inter-American levels.

It said current population increase "threatens the health and well-being of many millions of people."

In some areas, the statement said, the threat is malnutrition or outright starvation; in others, it is increased family stress, retarded educational opportunities, retarded industrial development, crippled economies.

"Especially lacking is scientific knowledge concerning human fertility," the association said.

Family Planning Recognized

"The healthful effects of family planning and spacing of births has been recognized by leaders of all major religious groups, as well as by leaders in medicine, welfare and public affairs."

The Roman Catholic Church opposes any artificial means of birth control, but does allow the so-called "rhythm method" in certain cases, whereby intercourse is avoided in likely periods of conception.

The statement was adopted by the association's 162-member governing council, including representatives of 14 health specialties and of 49 state, regional and territorial branches.

Best Suture Man In Hospital Turns Out to Be Phony

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—A hospital aide called "the best suture man in the place" by his coworkers was apparently a phony medical student who had no training for his job.

Dr. Abraham G. Chmelnik, director of Newark's Martland Medical Center, said Tuesday night the man told the hospital he was a medical student, then worked six weeks before his lie was uncovered.

The youth, who gave his name as James Covington, was hired as an extern, a medical student utilized as an unpaid aide. The hospital thought his medical school background was in transit.

Chmelnik said Covington's job called for observing doctors working in the emergency and admitting departments and actually doing some stitching when asked.

One coworker said that Covington "could put stitches in as well as any doctor I have ever seen."

Chmelnik said Covington "kept stalling on the transcript of his record and we finally confronted him."

Covington was challenged by Chmelnik Nov. 3. He left the hospital and hasn't been seen since.

Landlord Given Year in Jail On Rent Gouging

NEW YORK (AP)—A landlord indicted on 105 rent-gouging charges has been sent to jail for one year.

David Zygelman, 36, former president of a syndicate which owns a west side building that charged its tenants exorbitant rents for tiny apartments, was sentenced Tuesday by General Sessions Judge John A. Mullen. Zygelman had pleaded guilty to five of the rent-gouging charges and was sentenced to a year in jail on each charge. But Mullen ordered that the sentences be served concurrently.

About 90 per cent of the tenants in the building were relief clients, according to the charges, and many were forced to use Welfare Department food money to pay the excess rent Zygelman demanded. Relief clients are allowed a fixed amount for rent.

New York City is among the communities in New York State that are under state rent control. The State Temporary Housing Rent Commission alleged that Zygelman had charged an average of 50 per cent more than the fixed rate. The maximum rate for each room in the building was $15 a week, the commission said.

CABLEVISION FOR SCHOOLS — The first free Cablevision master television antenna installation has been completed at St. Joseph's School, it was announced jointly today by the Rev. James V. Keating (right), assistant pastor of St. Joseph's Church, and H. E. Williams, general manager of Kingston Cablevision, Inc. This is the first completely free Cablevision service—hook-up plus monthly service without charge—donated under a program recently announced by Kingston Cablevision, Inc., which is furnishing hook-ups to public and parochial schools of the Kingston area. Acceptance of the Cablevision offer has just been received from the Kingston School District (Consolidated). The George Washington School will be hooked into the system bringing New York City channels into the Kingston area. (Tom Reynolds photo)

Boy, 7, May Be Blind by Yule, Celebrates Now

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jackie Foster is celebrating Christmas today.

There's a big tree shining with multi-colored lights and tinsel in the Foster household.

Under it are many gifts for Jackie, including the toy rifle he always wanted.

Jackie couldn't wait until December 25 because he probably will be blind by then. His parents wanted him to see one more Christmas.

The seven-year-old boy will enter Wills Eye Hospital Wednesday to await a tragic fate that only a miracle could preclude. Jackie is a victim of cancer.

When he was 13 months old his left eye was removed because of a malignant retino blastoma tumor inside it.

Recently the disease struck Jackie in the right eye. Doctors say the same type of tumor appeared, but they want to be sure. They'll conduct tests before operating.

Four Aboard B47 Presumed Dead in Crash Near School

WINDSOR, Mo. (AP)—A burning B47 bomber crashed and exploded within 450 yards of a rural school near here Tuesday.

Four men aboard were presumed dead, the Air Force said. The plane was based at McConnell Air Force Base, Wichita, Kan. Crewmen were Capt. Herbert J. Edwards, 36, Austin, Tex.; Maj. Edgar Jodoin, 35, Oxford, Mass.; Lt. Robert L. Westrup, 24, Albany, Ore., formerly of Lyons, Kan., and Airman James H. Redmond, 21, Bay Shore, N. Y. Only Westrup's body has been found.

Twenty-three pupils and their teacher were in the Hope Dale School eight miles northeast of Windsor when the plane blasted a 20-foot-deep crater beside a county road.

Powerful Flyers

A frigate bird is a sea bird with an immense wingspread and unusually great powers of flight. A relative of the pelican, these birds live in the tropics around the world. About 40 inches long, their wings spread to seven or eight feet.

Humphrey Is Not After Veep Job

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) says he isn't interested in the vice presidential spot on the 1960 Democratic ticket.

He spoke at Democratic meetings here and at Idaho Falls Tuesday. In a news conference at Idaho Falls, Humphrey was asked if he would seek the vice presidential nomination next year.

"If I proceed as contemplated,

I'll seek the presidential nomination. If not, only the Senate," Humphrey replied.

Sale to Aid Churches, Synagogues Nov. 27-28

Bob Kreines, Kingston shoe store proprietor, will hold his second annual "Tithing Days," a plan to benefit area churches and synagogues, on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 27 and 28.

Kreines, who operates a shoe store for women and children at 280 Fair Street, will mail 10 per cent of each sale to the church or synagogue designated by the customer.

He obtained the idea from Guidepost, a national magazine. Kreines said today he has received a number of letters from area ministers and others commending him for "Tithing Days."

Copper is a corruption of the name of the Mediterranean island of Cyprus, whose mines supplied the ancient world with the metal.

"We were trapped in the car ...and no one could see us"

"One afternoon last winter my car skidded off the road and over an embankment. My friend and I sat there a moment, dazed and bleeding. Then, when we tried to open the doors, we found they were wedged shut. I began honking the horn. But we were out of sight of the road, and no one stopped. I was about to give up hope, when two men appeared beside us. They were telephone men, who'd heard the horn and stopped to investigate. They pried open the door, treated us with their first-aid kits—even wrapped their jackets around us. Then one went to call for help while the other stayed, comforting us, till the ambulance came."

Good training and equipment help prepare telephone people for emergencies. But even more important is the "spirit of service" that seems to typify everything they do, on and off the job.

Yale and Harvard Withdraw From U.S. Loan System

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Yale and Harvard, two of the nation's most influential universities, have withdrawn from the federal student loan program. The program requires borrowers to sign a loyalty affidavit.

Yale President A. Whitney Griswold said the affidavit "is contrary to the classic principles of our colleges and universities."

Harvard President Nathan M. Pusey called it misguided, and an "affidavit of disbelief."

The affidavit, required of students applying for federal education loans, states that the applicant does not believe in, belong to, or support "any organization that believes in or teaches the overthrow of the United States government by force or violence or by any illegal or unconstitutional means."

Griswold and Pusey made their announcements Tuesday independently. But it was learned that the two presidents had talked the matter over by telephone Tuesday and had been discussing the affidavit for several months.

Their decisions mean almost a half million dollars in available funds will not be used. Harvard is turning back $357,873. Yale, which already has received $160,000, said it will return most of another $50,000 to which it is entitled.

The affidavit was required by the National Defense Act of 1958, which put the student loan fund into operation. An effort was made in the Senate last summer to delete the affidavit requirement, but it failed. The affidavit is accompanied by an oath of support of the U.S. Constitution.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Gen. U. S. Grant of Civil War fame probably turned in his grave when he learned a Mighty Mite football team here adopted the name U. S. Grant Rebels.

matter of FACT

After the Crusades in Europe, the art of bleaching was improved in Holland, so the Scotch and English mills sent their linen cloth to Haarlem for bleaching. By giving the cloth alternate baths of lye and buttermilk and spreading it out to dry between baths the Dutch obtained a very fine quality linen. In early spring the Scotch would send all the cloth they had woven during the winter to Holland and in the fall, the Dutch would return it.

AFL-CIO Ending Parley; Out to Back $1.50 Wage

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The state convention of the AFL-CIO, in its final day today, tackles a series of resolutions that will chart its course for the coming year.

Delegates are expected to support demands for a $1.50 minimum hourly wage and revision of the unemployment and sickness disability laws.

Both proposals have been put forward recently by the AFL-CIO's state executive committee. They are expected to oppose any efforts to remove striking workers from the list of those qualified for unemployment payments from the state.

Tuesday, delegates voted unanimously support for the steelworkers strike after hearing the United Steelworkers' state leader attack the President for halting the strike by injunction.

Joseph P. Molony, district director for the USW's 30,000 New York State members, said:

"The strike is not ended. It was just interrupted by a President of the United States who chooses his friends from among labor's enemies."

He also attacked Gov. Rockefeller, who addressed the 1,500 delegates at their opening session Monday.

"I read his speech and learned he's for all that is good and holy," Molony said.

After commenting that Rockefeller did not mention the strike although he was in Buffalo, where 25,000 steel workers live, Molony said:

"We anxiously looked to the governor of our state for help and a kind word, but there was none."

Earlier, State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, a Democrat, also attacked what he called the "negative attitude of the Republican governor."

He charged that the state administration planned no new programs of benefit to the people. These, he said, are to be sacrificed for the sake of a balanced budget.

He claimed the state's financial picture "is much brighter than the governor admits."

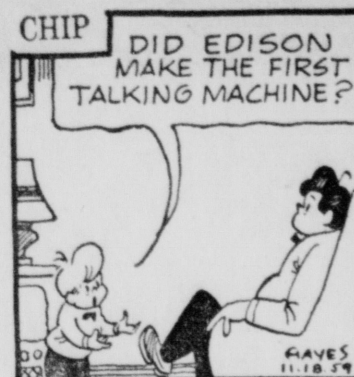

And he charged that the administration was supporting policies favoring business interests, not the public welfare.

Denies Abuses

fit side or by weakening our solvency standards in order to match the inadequate tax rates that have brought other state funds close to ruin," he said.

Would Change Law

Turning to the abuses in the program cited by some employers, Green conceded that an abuse existed when an employee fired for stealing collected unemployment benefits. He said this could be stopped by changing the law.

But, he said, benefits paid in all misconduct cases—including minor infractions like smoking off-limits amounted to only two-tenths of one per cent of all benefits paid.

As for pensioners and pregnant women collecting benefits — another employer complaint—Green said that, if these people did not want to work, they could not collect benefits legally.

Furthermore, he said, very few pensioners were drawing unemployment insurance. Half of those that are, he said, base their claims on employment since retirement. Thus their benefits are not charged against the employer who pensioned them, he said.

Benefits to pregnant women account for only nine-tenths of one per cent of all benefits paid to women, Green said.

Can't Let People Starve

As for unemployment insurance for strikers, Green said that, after the seven-week waiting period before benefits were paid, the reserves of the average wage earner were likely to be exhausted.

"And since today we don't let people starve, the government—whether local or state—is going to provide funds," he said.

But, he said, under the unemployment insurance system, the cost of strikes is borne by the industrial community—the employer financing unemployment benefits and the striker cutting his standard of living or falling back on reserves.

On the subject of benefits paid to persons who quit their jobs voluntarily and are unable to find work immediately, Green said this constituted only 1½ per cent of the total benefits paid.

125 Hear Brown Give Talk Tuesday At Chambers P-TA

County Investigator Arthur H. Brown addressed the Chambers School Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday night on the subject of juvenile delinquency.

Approximately 125 parents and teachers were present.

Brown pointed out that a juvenile delinquent is a boy or girl between seven and 16 years of age, a minor a boy or girl between 16 and 21.

By 1960, he said, there will be 1,800,000 juvenile delinquents in the United States, with the rate still rising. The Ulster County rate is approximately one per cent, or 160 cases—a comparatively low rate.

He placed the responsibility for delinquent children squarely on the parents—not the police, teachers or bus drivers who take the children to school.

He said the majority of children in trouble have weak moral fiber. He said a girl of juvenile age gets into trouble primarily because of sex, a boy for burglary, vandalism, larceny and sex in that order.

Brown recommended recreation programs and said boys and girls should be allowed to work, thus using up their excess energy, at the same time teaching boys and girls how to earn and realize the value of money. The duties of an investigator, he said, are to satisfy all complaints and to record them.

Many cases are resolved by parents and judge who discuss the child's problems. Heavy applause indicated that the talk was much appreciated.

To Continue With P-TA

President Muriel Short of the P-TA conducted the business meeting during which a discussion was held on the question of affiliation with P-TA or Parents and Teachers Group. It was voted to continue its affiliation with the P-TA.

Principal Reginald Russell said the children would receive a new type of report card beginning Thursday.

He also announced that Dec. 7, during the afternoon, a "go-home" drill will be held, with all children in the Kingston School District (Consolidated) participating. He urged parents to keep the date in mind.

Mrs. Short urged parents to write the board of education asking that a junior high school site be obtained and construction begun as soon as possible.

Police Arrange Duty Schedules For School Class

Arrangements are in progress this week for a police training course sponsored by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The school, dealing mainly with police investigating methods, will open Nov. 30 and continue through Dec. 11.

Local detectives, within recent weeks, attended the same type of FBI course along with members of the New York State Police at Suffern.

Members of the local force, who will attend the school, are now arranging their duty schedules to permit them sufficient time to attend the classes.

10,000 Gal. Tank

coal to oil fuel and a tank of only 2,000-gallon capacity has been in temporary use.

The tank, 10 feet in diameter, 15 feet, eight inches long, made of quarter-inch steel plate was to be installed in the former coal bin area on the south side of the heating plant.

Installation of the new system was by C. B. Strain & Son, Inc., Saugerties Road. The change cost approximately $15,000 with an additional sum spent for replacement of badly corroded steam pipes.

To Save Trucking The replacement was authorized on recommendation of Mayor Radel who suggested that fuel oil heat would ultimately save the city money largely due to eliminating the extra annual cost of trucking coal to the plant.

Decision to make the change followed repair of extensive damage done in the plant when a section of ceiling collapsed months ago.

Tompkins Plans

we have no alternative but to proceed with the examination as ordered. The grand jury will meet on Tuesday, November 24th."

"However, the appearance of the two stenographers may be obviated if Mr. Haver himself will consent to waive immunity and testify."

"A formal invitation is being forwarded to him this day."

Haver, who has represented several defendants in the probe had asked the Appellate Division to quash subpoenas issued by Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins' office calling for the appearance of Jean Ammerman and Lois Van Gorden before the special grand jury. Subpoenas had been issued on October 16 for their appearance on October 20. On October 17, Haver obtained a stay from the Appellate Division and on Nov. 3 the matter was argued.

Charges "Harassment" At the time the matter was argued, Haver contended the two secretaries could not be required to testify before the grand jury and argued that the "confidential" rule existing between counsel and client applied. He alleged the issuance of subpoenas for two of his office help had been done to "harass" him, that the subpoenas were not issued in good faith.

In reply Special Attorney General Tompkins said it "may be deduced" that Haver's objection was not "based on a fear of a breach of attorney-client privilege, but a fear that evidence might be obtained from them implicating him in matters legitimately the subject of investigation."

Tompkins pointed out that on October 20, Haver himself had refused to testify before the grand jury "unless he could go in without the customary waiver of personal immunity."

Would Check on Letter Tompkins told the court he had reason to believe the secretaries had "evidence of facts pertaining to the investigation," and one thing the grand jury wanted to talk to the secretaries about was a letter Haver is alleged to have written to former Kingston Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman in Florida, asking Heiselman to deliver a message to former State Senate Majority Leader Arthur H. Wicks. This matter came up in the perjury trial of former commissioner of jurors, Edwin W. Ashby.

According to testimony of Heiselman he had received a letter from Haver asking him to tell Wicks it would be "helpful" if he did no more talking about his willingness to come to Kingston from Florida to testify. Heiselman said he had been requested to destroy the letter.

There were other matters, Tompkins said, he would like to question the two secretaries about, but did not specify what they were.

Application Dismissed The Appellate Division dismissed the application for quashing the subpoenas and vacated the stay.

The Appellate Division held valid the three-count bribery indictment returned by a regular grand jury last August 5, which charges Ryan, a former official of the defunct Ulster Bituminous Distributors Co., Inc., of Kingston, with bribing three Ulster County road superintendents.

Earlier an indictment returned by the special grand jury charging Ryan with conspiracy to bribe had been dismissed by the Court of Appeals on the grounds Ryan might have received immunity when he testified before the special grand jury.

Following dismissal of the indictment returned by the special grand jury, the regular March Grand Jury was reconvened by Justice William Deckelman on August 5, 1959, and that grand jury heard evidence in the Ryan case. The bribery indictment followed.

The validity of the indictment was attacked by Haver on the grounds Justice Deckelman had adjourned the March term of court and the grand jury was not constitutionally convened when it heard the Ryan case and returned the indictment.

Rule Jury Legally Convened A stay was obtained in the matter pending decision as to whether Justice Deckelman had power to "recall" the March Grand Jury into session. The Appellate Division Tuesday held the March Grand Jury was legally in session and ruled that the three-count bribery indictment against Ryan, now a resource assistant with the Ulster County Welfare Department is valid.

He holding the session of the March Grand Jury was legally reconvened, the Appellate Court said that it is the "statutory duty" of the court to keep open a session of the court so that it may receive a report of a grand jury called in attendance upon that court.

The decision states that it is the "statutory duty" of the court of court so it may be reconvened at any time before the opening of the next term to receive the report of the grand jury. This is under the provision of a new statute which became effective some time ago. Previous to that grand juries were excused after completion of their duties and there were periods when no grand jury was empaneled. Under the new statute there is a grand jury always legally convened which may act in an emergency, although there may have been no immediate work for grand jurors when they concluded their regular investigations.

Mandatory Plan On Shelters Faces Albany Rejection

By ROBERT T. GRAY
Associated Press Staff Writer
ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The 1960 Legislature would reject any plan for mandatory construction of fallout shelters, an influential legislative leader declared today.

He told The Associated Press that, "at best," the lawmakers might approve a purely voluntary program.

Gov. Rockefeller announced earlier this year plans to introduce in the next Legislature a proposal for construction of fallout shelters in private homes and buildings to guard against radioactive fallout from nuclear attack.

Favored by Group A Rockefeller advisory committee recommended that the state require property owners to build the structures.

After the report was issued, the governor said he would make recommendations for a shelter program but he has not said whether it would be a mandatory plan.

A new committee headed by Commerce Commissioner Keith McHugh is drafting legislation on the shelter program. Details have not been disclosed.

The possibility has been raised in the Rockefeller administration that the state might offer tax concessions to help residents pay for the shelters.

The legislative leader who was interviewed today said he doubted that even a plan for tax concessions would get through the Legislature.

Declines Identity The legislator, who declined to be identified, predicted that any program for shelters would simply provide for voluntary action by residents, with no penalties or other steps against persons who did not build the shelters.

The administration's fallout proposal touched off a wave of controversy. Estimates on the cost of shelters in private homes ranged from $150 upward and there was extensive debate over what the actual cost would be.

Rockefeller has continued to advocate some form of protection against radioactive fallout but has not made specific proposals.

The Republican governor evidently would run into a rebellion by the GOP-controlled Legislature if he proposed a compulsory plan. He has indicated such a plan seemed advisable to him.

President Mulls

Eisenhower will spend more time there than in any other country. It is in preparation for the trip that the President is vacationing here at Augusta National Golf Club and storing up as much rest and relaxation as he can. Conferences with Washington officials still take some of his time.

For a session today, he called in the five members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff for what Hawks said is one of their periodic meetings with the commander-in-chief.

"They will discuss military plans and program," Hawks said. Hawks said he thinks an answer to Dodd's letter will be coming up very shortly.

But he was definite on one thing: Eisenhower hasn't communicated with Truman about it.

Eisenhower - Truman relations have been frosty ever since the 1952 political wars, in which Truman fought Eisenhower and the GOP with typical vigor and picturesque speech.

Ruth MillettChildren Can Be Pests or Friends—It's Up to You

She lives a long way from her own grandchildren and so she has become a grown-up friend to all of the children in her neighborhood.

They ride their bikes through her circular driveway. They play ball in her yard. They climb her trees.

In her yard they feel welcome—for she doesn't scold or order them around. A gentle reminder from her to "watch out for the flowers" or a suggestion that they move "home plate" so that there is no danger to windows is met with agreeable grins.

The little girls in the neighborhood come to show off a new dress, or a new pet, or to borrow something they need for a project they are busy at. She always treats them like welcome company, admires what they have come to have admired, or good-naturedly searches for what they want to borrow—knowing their project is, at the moment, of utmost importance.

It is wonderful for the children to have a neighbor who treats them with warm friendliness, who has time to listen to their talk, who has the wisdom to teach without preaching and to correct without scolding. And it is good for the neighbor who has reared her own family to have children around asking questions, wanting help, taking her into their confidence.

I mention this woman because I get so many letters from older women who say that the neighborhood children are pests, that they are noisy and destructive, that their mothers ought to keep them at home—and on and on and on.

Neighborhood children aren't pests to the woman who takes the trouble to be a friend to them, who treats them with genuine courtesy and expects courtesy in return.

Garbarino to Open Store on Broadway

In the march of progress, the Garbarino fruit and produce market which for 67 years was located at Broadway and Albany Avenue, gave way some time ago for construction of the Arterial Route when all buildings in that area were demolished.

After a brief period the name of Garbarino is again to return to Kingston business when on Monday, December 1, Gordon Garbarino will open a store at Broadway and Cedar Street. He will be assisted in the business by John Garbarino who "retired" when the upper Broadway site was taken for the Arterial Route construction.

Driver Pays $50 On Two Charges, Six Others $65

A driver was sentenced today by Special City Judge Arthur B. Ewig on charges of driving while intoxicated and speeding and six drivers paid $65 in fines on traffic charges in city court last night.

Robert Boice, 23, of Sunset Park, was booked on the two charges, police said, after he was pursued over Albany Avenue by Officers Frank Stip and Bernard Bouton shortly before 1:30 a. m. today.

Judge Ewig sentenced him to pay a fine of $25 or spend 10 days in jail on the charge of speeding, and fined him $25 on the other charge, plus revocation of license. The fines were paid.

John Olson, 37, for whom police listed no present address, charged with failure to pay a $147 bill at the Governor Clinton Hotel, was last night given a suspended sentence and placed on probation for six months to permit him opportunity to make restitution.

Olson claimed that he had left the hotel key and a note explaining that he was leaving, and he felt that he did not owe as much as was claimed. The arrest Tuesday was on a warrant executed by Detective Gurnsey Burger and Officer Francis Buchanan.

Fined $15 last night on a charge of speeding was James Buchholz, 179 Elmendorf Street. Also charged with speeding and fined $10 each were: Robert E. Gardner, RD 3, Box 434-E, Saugerties; Thomas J. Porto, Box 189, Glasco; Walter Schwark, Port Ewen; Edward DePuy, Accord; and Joseph M. Arias, New Paltz.

Given suspended sentences were Frederick Beesmer, Route 2, Kingston, charged with lack of an inspection certificate and driving with a faulty muffler; James Zammillo, 297 Hasbrouck Avenue, charged with passing a red light, and Arthur Suline, Port Ewen, unlicensed vehicle.

Harry Freer, of 173 Henry Street, charged with driving without glasses contrary to a license requirement, was fined $5 today.

Special City Judge Ewig has been conducting court for the past few days for Judge Aaron E. Klein, who has been ill.

Cutting Costs Cited
At public hearings on the petitions which resulted in today's ruling, railroad witnesses claimed that freight revenues on the Catskill Mountain Branch last year were $141,000 less than operating costs. It was also testified that annual costs of maintaining the local agencies now to be terminated approximate $39,000, about half of which could be saved by substituting assistant agents for resident agents.

In a report to the Commission Examiner Thomas J. Brady states that while the business transacted at the various stations is substantial, "there appears to be no reason why the necessary paper work cannot be handled at a central point such as Kingston."

He also observes that "if even half" of the annual station operating costs "can be saved without hampering service rendered to the public, it will be a step in the right direction" if the railroad is to be able to continue operation of the branch.

In companion actions, Railway Express Agency was permitted to discontinue service at Phoenicia, Roxbury and Arkville since the volume of business handled at each is insufficient to justify the establishment of a local independent office after the company loses its local representation by the closing of the local freight agencies. The express company had originally sought permission also to discontinue service at Hobart. This request was subsequently withdrawn.

Flemming Urged

Thanksgiving and Christmas season sauce unless it could be identified as coming from a safe area.

Lists 5-Point Program
Stevens, at a conference called by Flemming, presented a five-point industry program designed to relieve Americans of any worry.

Stevens, representing Ocean Spray Cranberries, Inc., said his growers had been forbidden as long ago as Sept. 18 to use the questioned herbicide on their cranberry properties in any form despite approval by the Department of Agriculture for use after harvest.

Flemming's stated purpose in setting up today's meeting was to hear from the industry a plan to separate the clean berries from those which have been contaminated. So far the only method has been painstaking and slow chemical testing of each batch.

The industry plan which Stevens presented has been undertaken to some extent.

Will Continue Ban
Specifically he proposed:
1. Continuation of the ban on Aminotriazole until facts of its effect are determined. Stevens said this should not imply that use of the chemical is harmful "but only that as yet enough is not known about it, and until more is known, it seems wise to refrain from using it."

2. Segregation of all cranberries about which there is any reason for suspicion, the separation job to be done by marketing agencies which first handle them. Stevens said this plan was put into effect at the beginning of the 1959 harvest this fall.

3. Testing of all 1959 crop berries now possessed by primary handlers of the major distributors. These tests would be carried out by sampling procedures consistent with those used by the Food and Drug Administration.

Would Impound Others
4. Destruction of all cranberries found by such tests to contain any residue of Aminotriazole, or impounding them until it is decided what to do with them.

5. Continuation of scientific research and cooperation with government agencies "to insure uninterrupted delivery to the public of an adequate supply of pure and wholesome cranberries and cranberry products."

Of the berries tested, the great preponderance has been cleared, but the work is slow and Thanksgiving is only eight days away. George C.P. Olsson, president of Ocean Spray Cranberries, Inc., a cooperative which handles 75 per cent of the nation's cranberry crop, will present the plan to Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming.

Only Part Traced
The government acted again Tuesday to seize a fifth batch of contaminated berries. This one came from Washington State. Previous tainted berries were found from Oregon and Wisconsin.

Only part of the contaminated Washington shipment could be traced by government agents. The rest presumably is still on the way to consumers.

The Washington shipment was said to be one of two lots from the 1959 West Coast crop that originally touched off the nationwide cranberry scare last week. By the in conjunction with the removal of the present Esopus Creek bridge.

Would Include Crossing
Miller testified that the estimated $75,000 for the elimination of the viaduct would also include a grade crossing for the single track.

"Is it a fact that the railroad didn't want to become involved in any of this project, but that the railroad could agree to perform the actual work on the grade crossing?" the corporation counsel asked the witness.

"That is right," replied Miller. "What would it cost to demolish that portion of the viaduct which the railroad maintains?" asked Schue.

Kelly arose and objected, stating that the question was not pertinent to the inquiry. We are not concerned with that," Kelly said.

Miller testified that it would cost approximately $7,500 to remove the old reinforced concrete from that portion of the viaduct maintained by the railroad, and that the railroad would pay one-fourth of the expense.

"The railroad would pay 15 per cent of the cost of removing concrete from only that portion of the viaduct the railroad is obligated to maintain, isn't that so?" asked Kelly. Miller said that was his opinion.

Miller stated that the crewmen on trains using the tracks at the present site of the viaduct would have to get off the trains and stop traffic at a grade crossing.

"That would involve more dangers to the crewmen?" asked Schue. "Yes," replied the witness.

Questioned further by Schue, Miller said that no amounts for a permanent highway at the location of the viaduct were included in the estimates. Miller testified that in order to complete the new roadway after the removal of the viaduct the cost would be approximately $28,000.

Top scorers in each state, prorated according to the number of graduating high school seniors in the state, are named semi-finalists and take a second examination in December to further establish their eligibility for merit scholarship consideration.

The merit scholarship program is now in its fifth year, having been founded in 1955 with grants of twenty million dollars from the Ford Foundation, and $500,000 from the Carnegie Corporation.

Semi-finalists and commended students receive many scholarships apart from the merit program. NMSC estimates that more than $9 million dollars in scholarships for the freshman year alone will be awarded students in addition to the regular merit awards.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market staged a sharp rally early this afternoon, led by steels and rails.

Shares of these two industries, which often move together, were up 1 to 2 points as they ran ahead of the rest of the market. Gains elsewhere amounted to fractions to around a point, and these were tempered by losers in the same range. Trading was active.

Steels were bolstered by belief the industry will do well if the dispute with the union is ironed out.

Rails were bolstered by a published report the Pennsylvania Railroad will declare a dividend Thursday. The nation's biggest railroad was ahead around a point.

Motors, oils, building materials and electronics also moved ahead. Chemicals were mixed.

U.S. Steel was up around 1½, Bethlehem a shade less and Republic around the same.

Baltimore and Ohio and Atlantic Coast Line were other rail leaders, rising better than a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up $1.40 to $220.30. Industrials rose $1.80, rails $2.30 and utilities 20 cents.

Corporate bonds improved somewhat. U.S. government bonds were unchanged to steady.

WALLKILL NEWS

Yule Lighting Plans Outlined By Local Chamber

WALLKILL—At the regular meeting of the Wallkill Chamber of Commerce Monday evening, a report was heard from the chairman of the Christmas lighting committee, Clifford E. Quick.

The annual party and turning-on of the Christmas lights in the village will be held at 7 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 3. The program will feature the Wallkill Reformed Church junior choir under the direction of Mrs. Louise Didsbury and will begin at 7:30 p. m. Howard C. Terwilliger will be the emcee of the evening, and the lighting will be done by Adam Ulrich and the fire police.

The tree will be donated by Harold Alsdorf, and the American Legion will decorate the tree in the square. Decorations will be provided by George Hammesfahr and Dr. Charles Beattie.

Santa will attend and his helpers, George Heitmann, George Parلمان, Ray Prescott, William Young and Tom Wilson will distribute gifts provided by Harry W. Dunn, and packed by Mrs. Louise Parلمان.

The Christmas lights will be lighted Dec. 3, through Jan. 2. The usual contest will be held through the village, and there will be six prizes, three in the house decoration and lighting and three for lawn displays.

Two new members were welcomed into the chamber, William M. Gruner, lawyer, and ARMO Drainage and Metals Products, Inc.

The merchants committee was delegated to appear at the town board's next meeting, asking if anything can be done about the all-day parking on Wallkill Avenue in front of business places, and asking about a possibility of securing a recreation area for picnic facilities near Wallkill in a move for planned growth of the area.

After a motion of adjournment of the formal business, Supervising Principal Robert J. Robinson, introduced by President Smith, talked on the topic of what "Wallkill needs to attract school teachers in becoming permanent residents of the district."

Beginning with thanks to the Chamber for the opportunity of speaking, Mr. Robinson said that at the present time there are 72 people employed in the school system, with 21 in the outside area of Leontide, Modena and Plattkill, and 51 in the Wallkill Schools. Of these many own their own homes in other areas, and their spouse work in other areas, or are already established in the community in which they are now residing. Others choose to stay in the areas where they had settled prior to their becoming a part of the Wallkill Central School District. Still others are living at home. There are a number living in Wallkill either renting or boarding.

Mr. Robinson touched briefly on the things he feels Wallkill does have now that prove attractive to teachers.

"Its nearness to New York City makes available the cultural advantages there, as well as making it easy to further education with evening classes or Saturday classes at NYU or Columbia University."

There was no radical extremes in the Wallkill Central School District, thereby making it possible for the teacher to live on a par with the residents of the area.

He also felt that Wallkill had several good municipal services that sometimes a small village cannot boast of—that of the fine water system and adequate sewage system. He also noted that sidewalks were in the offing and all of these things he felt make the mark of a good community.

In touching on Wallkill needs, he felt that the most urgent things were good rental housing for families. In particular he felt that beginning teachers did not like to gamble on buying a house when they first started to teach in a district. Friendliness he felt could be extended a little more on the part of villagers or district residents, might make the schoolteacher feel they were accepted not being judged, he said. Also cultural advantages or civic projects could be extended a little more, although he noted that these might be a bit unat-

Miller Opening Addition To Young Togs Business

Leon's Young Togs, 43 North Front Street, has acquired the store at 45 North Front Street adjoining its present property for expansion of its infant and toddlers department, it was announced today by Leon C. Miller, proprietor.

The addition will be officially opened Thursday when the public is invited to come in and register for valuable door gifts. Winners will be selected Saturday, Nov. 28.

Says Area Growing
Miller pointed out today that the store has found it necessary to expand its facilities in order to keep up with ever-increasing demands of a growing area. The addition will double Leon's stock, both in quantity and variety.

The additional quarters, which have been remodeled and renovated, will house everything for infants, boys and girls, through size 6X.

Miller said Leon's, now 43-45 North Front Street, would officially "welcome" the addition tomorrow—the "newest" addition to ever-growing facilities for serving the clothing needs of children of the Hudson Valley."

To Carry Full Line

Many well-known manufacturers, including the famous Grace line, will be represented and mothers may purchase anything from diaper pins to snow-suits.

An interesting feature of the shop will be an infant's registry which will provide prospective mothers with the opportunity to select baby gifts they would like to receive and list them in the register.

Miller pointed out that "doting grandparents, aunts, uncles and friends may then send whatever gifts suit their fancy without fear of duplication."

Started in 1948
Leon's first opened its doors in March, 1948, as a combination boy's shop and shoe store. In the following year a girl's department was added. Next an infant's department was added and, two years later, the sub-teen department which is housed upstairs.

Miller, who resides at 171 Main Street, a native of Kingston, says he is "mighty proud" of the way the store has grown.

Willing Workers To Elect Officers
At the recent meeting of the Wallkill Reformed Church, a nominating committee of Mrs. Howard Teller and Mrs. Claude L. Decker, was named and asked to report at the next meeting.

Mrs. Wesley Withers was named general chairman for the dinner to be served to the Order of the Arrow of Boy Scout Councils Dec. 28. Mrs. J. A. McClung was named chairman of the dining room for that dinner also.

Lions Club Meets
The Lions Club met at Dixie Farm. President Jerry DeWitt introduced Clifford E. Quick, a member of the club.

Also introduced were Don Adams, guest of Fred C. Terwilliger, and George Roach, guest of Richard Schoonmaker.

A film was shown on the art of cooking with wine by Richard Platt and John Keal, members of the California Wine Advisory Board. A question and answer period followed.

The Board of Directors voted to sponsor the Footlight Club play "Guest in the House," at Wallkill Central School, Friday, Dec. 4.

Women's Club Thanks Program Observance Held
Mrs. Howard J. Smith, president of the Wallkill Women's Club, lighted the first candle in a special "Thanksgiving—Count Our Blessings" program observance held at the regular meeting Friday evening in the Valley National Bank building.

The candlelighting ceremony is dedicated to sending CARE Self-Help to people around the world. In the center of the tea table was a large beautifully decorated cake made by the social committee, Mrs. Wesley Withers, Mrs. George Wildrick and Mrs. Leonard Mahlandt. Each one present received a lighted candle with her cake and beverage as she made her contribution to CARE.

A collection was also taken during the meeting for Christmas gifts for the children of foster homes in Ulster County. Those members not present will be contacted later so that they may contribute to this fund if they wish.

Mrs. George Wildrick gave a report on the Ninth District meeting at Poughkeepsie Nov. 5. Mrs. Howard J. Smith, Mrs. Clare Ostrander, Mrs. Wesley Withers, and Mrs. John Sloan also attended.

The members received an invitation to visit the Walden Women's Club Monday. The topic was "Cooking With Wine."

Mrs. Hugh Anniesley of Montgomery gave a talk and demonstration on ceramics. She also exhibited samples of mosaic work.

Photography Exhibit
Winners of the 1959 Scholastic-Anaconda Photography Awards are on display until Friday at the Valley National Bank.

Winners selected from over 35,000 entries submitted by junior and senior high school students throughout the country, numbered 120. National award winners, out of these 33 were selected for the traveling exhibition. Awards of $100, $50 and $25 were given in each of 15 classifications.

Repeat Business Is Declared Major Factor For Continued Growth

Q.—From an Ohio reader, "I would appreciate your helping me to establish a list of good growth stocks. Is there an particular factor you look for in selecting these issues? Any specific suggestion along these lines would be appreciated."

A. Your question is one that I am asked frequently. In determining the growth outlook for any stock, I am inclined first to look closely at the nature of the company's business. The common characteristic that I look for in most instances is repeat business. The latter can consist of either goods or services. Many times these are sold in connection with basic equipment produced by the company. I can give you two examples. Eastman Kodak makes cameras which last a long time. But Eastman sells a great deal of film which can be used once and must then be replaced. Eastman's growth comes in large measure from its repeat business in film.

Let me give you another example which involves service. International Business Machines makes accounting and data processing machines. A great number of these are leased. The bulk of IBM's revenue is derived from rental payments and services which are of a repeat nature and make IBM grow. Then there is another category in which repeat business falls—personal use items. For example, Kimberly-Clark makes Kleenex, which, unlike cotton soft goods, is used once and thrown away. Kimberly-Clark has grown on a repeat item which has very wide acceptance.

Repeat Business Is Profitable
As a rule, well established repeat business brings wide profit margins. This is an important factor in growth. To become well established in this way a company must enjoy an unassailable position in a field where new competition is prohibitively costly. Repeat business backed by either or both of the foregoing should result in consistently high profit margins. Such names as Kleenex, Kodak and Gillette are so well established in the eligible for the dean's list at the Onondaga college.

Legion Auxiliary Notes
The fall conference of the Ulster County American Legion Auxiliary was held Saturday, Nov. 7, at Tick-Tock Inn, Catskill. Those attending from the Rose-Sheely Unit were Mrs. Florence Monrohouse, Mrs. Pauline Auchmoody, Mrs. Dorothy Wickes, Mrs. Helen Irvine and Mrs. Gertrude Cameron.

The Ulster County Legion and Auxiliary Units will hold their regular monthly meeting at the Ellenville Post home Monday, Nov. 23rd, at 8 p. m.

The baked ham dinner served by the Ladies Unit of the Rose-Sheely Post was reported a success. A big crowd was served Election night and the Auxiliary has expressed appreciation to all who attended and the committee who so ably handled all of the details.

The Ladies Auxiliary is now asking for gifts for the veterans at the VA Hospital, Albany. Mrs. Marie Flockhart, Rehabilitation Chairman will visit the hospital on Saturday, Nov. 28.

Anyone in the village or area wishing to send a gift to the gift shop may leave it with Mrs. Flockhart or Mrs. Florence Monrohouse before Nov. 28.

Gifts are placed in the gift shop, and veterans are able to select items to send to their families at Christmas time. These are available to the veteran free of charge, and are wrapped and mailed by volunteer workers working in the Gift Shop.

No breakable articles such as perfumes or cosmetics should be given, but any mailable article for women, children, or man are acceptable.

Gift shop day is Dec. 15, when the volunteer workers will wrap the gifts and mail them for the veterans.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Poems often portray sentimental feelings about a historical event. William O. Benson, of Sleightsburgh, has an extensive collection of Hudson River items and lore, among those he found two poems on the passing of the Mary Powell. He copied them for me. One is called "Ode to Mary Powell" published Dec. 1919. It was composed by John Bright of Esopus. This poem reads in part:

"Our Mary is going to leave us... If she's not already gone... The vandals are going to scrap her... And leave us all forlorn. No more will we hear her bell... In the early morn, When the welkin rings the music... Right after she's blown her horn. No more will little foot prints, Go patter through the saloon, No more will little children... Go sliding down the stairs... With sadness we will think of her, When she is torn apart. The eagle's flight from the pilot house, Will almost break our hearts, Goodbye, dear Mary Powell, Your work was done so well, That surely, if you had a soul... It would find its place in heaven."

The other poem is by Mrs. Irving Jansen and is called "To the Mary Powell." Also this was written at the time the Queen of the Hudson was about to be dismantled. It starts off with:

"How sad to take this boat apart, Long has she waved on high. And many an eye has been delighted to see, Her sailing over the tide. Around her were the traffics' shout, The deep blue river's roar. This beauty of the Hudson, shall sail the tide no more."

Mrs. Jansen's poem continues. These remember were written some 40 years ago.

"She has served the common public. Served them long and well; Like a beautiful furnished palace, In a quiet, lowly dell. Her career has been found faultless, Her crew they were always true; And never a life has she lost, While she sailed the Hudson's blue. But at last she must be torn apart. This boat with the wondrous pride, That was called 'The Queen of the Hudson,' In days and years gone by."

The verses continue: "So give her the praise that is due her, Praise her for beauty and grace, Praise her for safely carrying, Her cargo of human race. And let us always remember, That 'Mary Powell' was the name. Of the boat that plied the Hudson. The boat of beauty and fame. None knew her but to admire her, None knew her but to praise; So we will think of her as anchored, Safe in the distant haze."

The famous author Carl Carmer of this section wrote in his "The Hudson" about the Powell's last days thus:

"At Sunflower Dock on the Rondout, just out of sight of Hudson water, in the days of the Great War, junk dealer, John Fisher dismantled the Mary Powell. Down came her tall stacks of Day Line brown, always black when Absalom Anderson owned her. From above the wheelhouse came the silver bell to adorn the Day Line Park at Indian Point. The Robert Fulton now speaks with the deep voice of her whistle. And in the Senate House Museum at Kingston stands the pilot wheel that Guernsey Betts' hands knew so well. But the Mary Powell lives in more than the relics of her past. She is a complete and lovely image in thousands of memories. 'She had a silver tongue,' they say, 'She had a golden throat.'"

Satchmo Banned From Lebanon for Trip to Israel

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Louis Armstrong has been banned from Lebanon for taking his troupe to Israel, the head of the public security forces said today.

Commandant Toufic Jalboud denied in an interview, however, that there was any other reason for barring the American Negro trumpeter. The Egyptian press said last week that Lebanese security officials alleged that Satchmo was leader of an Israeli espionage network.

FELINE FANCY She'll rave about your outfit. And purr with sheer delight. Then whisper to her neighbor: "My, isn't she a fright!" —F. G. Kernan

Hazel, aged seven, while feeding the cat at the dinner table, was reproved by her father, who told her that the cat must wait until later, whereupon the small girl wept and said: "I think it is a shame, just because she is a poor dumb animal, to treat her just like a hired girl."

A woman entered the sporting goods department of a large store and told the salesman: "Woman—I'd like a low handicap, please."

Salesman—A low handicap? Woman—Why, yes, for my husband's birthday. He's always wishing he had one.

An applicant for nursing school was asked this question: "What is a practical nurse?" Answered the would-be Florence Nightingale, after some thought—"A practical nurse is one who marries a rich patient."

Think Twice Before Making Total Transfer of Property

BY FAYE HENLE

Taking a cue from the old-time farmer, more and more men these days are transferring all of their assets into their wives' names.

Why? And, importantly, is this permissible under the letter of the law?

The "why" is not dissimilar to the reasoning down on the farm. If the crop was profitable for a year or two by transferring those profits to mama, Uncle Hayseed could, when a poor year came, go into bankruptcy with the comforting knowledge that mama could support him while his creditors wept.

Today, it is often the professional man that uses this device and his chief reason is that if he were sued (say a physician for malpractice) his assets would be nil, yet his family would be provided for.

Is this practical?

In this day of frequent divorce, it is inspiring to learn that some men still have confidence in their wives. Yet the question of tax evasion arises as well as the question of a deliberate attempt to avoid creditors.

Tax attorneys and trust officers offer a host of observations. They point out that a wife may predecease her husband and in such a case he would suffer an estate tax on money that rightfully was his.

They warn that if a court can prove that the husband's property was transferred to deliberately avoid creditors, the transferal would be disallowed. Also there would be little point to transferring property if you reside in a state with a community property law.

The experts also warn that it depends upon the total valuation of the property relinquished as to how such a shift might stand up in court. To get technical, it also depends upon the definition of what is capital and what is income.

Where capital and property are involved, the federal gift tax consideration enters. Incidentally, the gift tax is at a lower rate than that imposed upon estates or inheritances.

The basic federal tax rules to remember before making such a gift are:

- Because of the marital deduction one-half of any gift a husband makes to his wife is made tax-free.

- Each one of us has a lifetime exemption of $30,000 and an annual exclusion of $3,000 which must be used up before any federal gift taxes are payable.

Thus, a husband can give his wife $66,000 without paying any gift taxes. One-half, $33,000, is excluded because of the marital deduction; $30,000 is excluded because of his lifetime exemption; $3,000 is excluded because of the annual exclusion. Total: $66,000.

In instances where a taxable gift is made and a gift tax is not paid, I'm told real trouble can come. In such cases the husband may be penalized for fraud and be required to pay the gift tax plus 6 per cent or more interest for each year of delinquency.

If you've an itch to juggle considerable assets, do so only upon consultation with experts on the laws of taxation. And these are the experts that are the hardest to find!

Wampum

Indians attached significance to the color of wampum beads, believing that white stood for health, peace and riches, while purple and black meant sorrow or sympathy with another's sorrow. Dark beads often were more valuable than the white.

Fisher Double Fills the Gap

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Suppose that the man to your left opens one no-trump and his partner raises him to three no-trump. It is impossible that you will hold a hand strong enough in high cards to make a penalty double. However, it is possible that you hold a hand which with the right lead will beat the contract.

To illustrate, note today's East hand. Had North bid two clubs (Stayman) you of course, would have doubled for an eventual club lead. However, as the bidding actually went, you are fixed.

Dr. John Fisher of Dallas has come up with a lead-directing double to handle this situation.

The Fisher double in today's sequence demands a club lead. Of course the opportunity for a Fisher double won't arise more than once in a blue moon but it is worth 400 Brave Snow, Cold to Boost Rocky in N.H.

HANOVER, N. H. (AP)—An estimated 400 persons braved snow and raw wind Tuesday night to boost Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York for the Republican presidential nomination.

The gathering following fireworks and a torchlight parade through the streets of the Dartmouth College town was billed as an old-fashioned political rally—one of the first of the 1960 national campaign.

Gov. Rockefeller sent a telegram to the rally thanking the people for their friendship, but he gave no hint as to whether he is a candidate.

The telegram said in part: "Your activity in this rally is an example of the enthusiastic, vigorous and deeply concerned participation in the purposes of democracy so essential to the future of our great land."

Rockefeller's telegram was read to the gathering in Hanover High School Auditorium by William G. Saltonstall, headmaster of Exeter Academy and chairman of the New Hampshire for Rockefeller Committee.

Said Saltonstall: "It seems to me that the chief purpose of this rally is to make Gov. Rockefeller hear us in Albany."

Several speakers took the rostrum to boost Rockefeller.

President John Sloan Dickey of Dartmouth said: "We are not professional politicians, but we are deeply concerned. We want the nation to have a person worthy of its leadership. Nelson Rockefeller comes as close to the perfect president as we might have in God's world."

Sponsors said there might have been a bigger participation in the rally were it not for the adverse weather.

New Zealand has more than two and a half cattle for each of its people; its sheep outnumber the population almost 17½ to 1.

CORN OF PLENTY—This year's corn crop, the first to be harvested since all acreage controls were eliminated, continues to shape up as a record-breaking one. Newsmap above shows the figures for the nine leading corn producing states, as estimated by the U.S. Agriculture Department. Total crop, based on conditions at the beginning of November, will be around 4.4 billion bushels. Although this is a drop of some 26 million bushels from the October estimate, the harvest will still be 600 million bushels above the previous record set in 1958. Corn yield in 1959 is put at 52.2 bushels an acre, compared with 51.7 in 1958 and a 1948-1957 average of 40.6 bushels.

Drivers Slowing Down, Is Report

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Drivers on the state's main highways are going a shade slower this year than they were last year, according to the State Public Works Department.

The department said Tuesday the average speed of vehicles in a check this year was 48.2 miles an hour. Last year it was 48.5 miles an hour.

The tests were made during light-traffic hours on highways through rural areas. Under these conditions, the drivers could travel at desired speeds, the department said.

Of the 8,500 passenger automobiles checked by radar stations, 36 per cent exceeded the 50-mile-an-hour speed limit. Of the 1,100 trucks checked, 39 per cent were speeding.

Passenger cars traveled at an average of 48.1 miles an hour this year, compared with 48.5 last year. Trucks went 48.8 miles an hour, compared with 48 last year. The record speed average was 50 miles an hour in 1953.

Help for Hunters

No wise hunter carries a white handkerchief, especially during the deer season when that flash of white could be taken as the flick of a deer's tail. A tissue manufacturer has come out with a special pocket pack of "flame red" tissues in a bright red wrapper as an aid to hunters. Their brilliant color is easily seen at rifle and shotgun distances.

Hunter Flees After Shooting Down Another

CHATHAM, N. Y. (AP)—One hunter shot another, looked at him lying on the ground, then fled, State Police report.

Frank Vello, 54, of Rensselaer, was struck in the right leg by a bullet Tuesday as he hunted near this Columbia County community.

Vello told police he was standing beside a tree when he was shot. He said he spotted a man in brush nearby and called to him, "You've shot me."

Vello said the man looked at him, then fled.

Levi Biglow, 16, who lives about a half mile from the shooting scene, heard the shot and Vello's cries for help and went to Vello's aid.

Vello was in fair condition in an Albany hospital.

Long Memory

LYNDHURST, N. J. (AP)—When Dr. Lambert Klopman was a young soldier on a World War I troop train in Philadelphia, he gave a dollar to a boy to get him some bread and sardines. He never saw the boy again. More than 40 years later, the dentist says, he got a letter from C. O. Perkins of Philadelphia, apologizing and offering to return the dollar. Perkins said he still had the change and the key to the sardine can. Dr. Klopman replied that Perkins could keep the change and offered him free dental work.

103 Bills Are Pre-Filed for '60 Legislature

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A total of 103 bills have been pre-filed for action in the 1960 Legislature, which convenes in January.

Pre-filing of bills began Monday. The system allows early introduction of bills so they may be processed for immediate consideration by committees when the Legislature meets.

Most of the measures introduced so far are duplicates of bills that died in this year's session. They include a bill to authorize off-track betting in New York City.

Major legislation still is to come. These will be Gov. Rockefeller's program bills and proposals by the major legislative committees.

Rockefeller has said that much of his program will be pre-filed.

Troop Pullback Talk May Start Fiery Fight in U.S.

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration is nudging the Allies to share the big daddy role. Since World War II this country has shelled out more than 68 billion dollars in foreign aid of all kinds.

The administration is also beginning to talk of the pullback of American troops from Europe. Not immediately, according to Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy, but eventually.

Ask Help of Allies

Both Secretary of State Christian A. Hexter and Undersecretary Douglas Dillon have joined President Eisenhower in calling on the Allies—in Japan and Europe—to join this country in a stepped-up drive of aid to backward nations.

This idea isn't likely to encounter much opposition in this country but an attempt at a troop pullback any time soon will touch off a fiery fight at home.

The administration could argue in defense of a troop withdrawal that the only real defense of Western Europe lies in missiles and that NATO defense will depend less and less on ground forces.

But Premier Nikita Khrushchev has been calling for withdrawal of both American troops and bases from Europe.

No one here is suggesting abandoning United States bases in Europe since the planes and missiles there are the main deterrent to any Soviet aggression.

But the advocates of a strong NATO — the Atlantic Alliance — would probably interpret a troop pullback not only as an appeasement of Khrushchev but a return toward American isolation.

Call Troop Assurance

They could argue that the troops are not only needed on the Continent—to help swell the size of the Allied ground troops—but that their very presence there is assurance of American solidarity with the Allies.

Even now, before Europe is thoroughly guarded with missiles of various ranges, the NATO ground forces apparently are only a shell of what they are supposed to be.

On paper NATO has 21 1-3 divisions of 425,000 men. Actually, they probably have no more than 250,000 men. There are 20 Soviet divisions in East Germany alone, with 400,000 men. In all, the Soviet Union has about 170 divisions.

Not long ago, when the West was worried the Soviets might try to cut off West Berlin, Eisenhower himself expressed doubt NATO's ground forces could stop the Soviets, and he emphasized the West's main weapon was in the air.

Disarmament Long Way Off

Although Khrushchev has proposed complete disarmament, that's a long way off. This week he reminded the West that if anyone was getting soft it was the West, not the Soviet Union.

He boasted to a group of Soviet journalists that Soviet rocket power is so tremendous it could blast any nation off the face of the earth now.

"Some in the West claim," he said, "that the Soviet Union has changed its policy and therefore it has become easier to talk with us. This is wrong, of course."

He suggested that any brightening of peace prospects was due rather to a change of heart among the capitalist leaders.

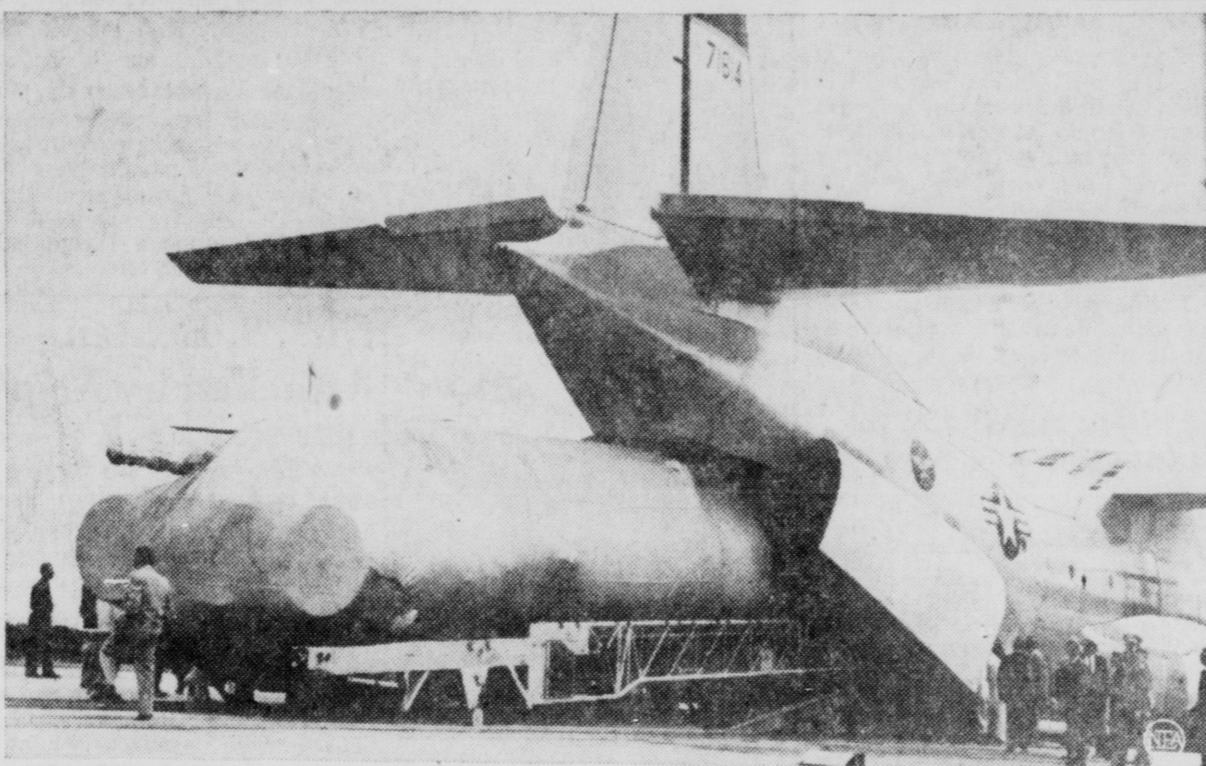

Dogs Alarm Community

MARCY, N. Y. (AP)—A pack of wild dogs has alarmed residents of this Oneida County community. They fear the dogs may attack their children.

The dogs killed three cows last week. During the summer they killed a pig and a pony, maimed two horses and attacked a herd of cattle.

Cecil Gotts, a veteran trapper for the State Conservation Department, was called in Tuesday to join the hunt.

The department pointed out that wild dogs killed two children in Kansas last year.

SQUEEZE PLAY — Wrapped in a cocoonlike cover, a giant Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile inches along a special track assembly into the belly of a Douglas C-133 Cargomaster. The tight drama took place during a test at Miramar Air Station, San Diego. The huge aircraft, belonging to the Military Air Transport Service (MATS), then successfully airlifted the missile to Warren AFB in Wyoming. In 1958 a MATS C-133 broke the record for lifting the heaviest payload—nearly 59 tons.

Gotham Officer Says Lombardozzi Planned to Hunt

NEW YORK (AP) — A New

York City policeman says Carmine Lombardozzi told him he attended the Apalachin underworld convention to do some hunting.

Patrolman Bertram L. Scott, a former city detective, testified Tuesday in Federal Court that he questioned Lombardozzi at a Brooklyn police station about a week after the raid on the Upstate meeting.

Scott said Lombardozzi's excuse for being at the conclave was "so ridiculous that I didn't even put it in my report."

"I asked him whether he had any guns or hunting clothes when he left for Apalachin," Scott said.

"He told me he planned to buy hunting weapons and clothes when he reached Upstate."

Lombardozzi also admitted he had no hunting license, Scott said. Scott resigned as a detective to take his family to Arizona for health reasons. He returned to the force recently as a patrolman.

Lombardozzi is one of 21 Apalachin delegates charged with giving evasive and false answers about why they attended the big underworld conclave Nov. 14, 1957, at the mansion of the late Joseph Barbara Sr. More than 60 hoodlums and associates were rounded up in the raid by State Police.

Prior to Scott's testimony, defense attorneys succeeded in halting FBI Agent William A. Vericker's testimony until he can produce his original notes on the investigation. The defense argued that the U. S. Supreme Court has ruled such material must be made available to the defense by police investigating bodies, including the FBI.

Longshoremen Back in Federated Labor Fold Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The International

Longshoremen's Assn.—an orphan for six years—rejoins federated labor today.

The AFL-CIO arranged a ceremony for presentation of a charter to the ILA by AFL-CIO President George Meany. ILA President William V. Bradley was the recipient.

The ILA was kicked out of the old AFL in 1953 because of corruption and gangster domination. It was kept out of the AFL-CIO, formed by merger in 1955.

The national AFL-CIO convention at San Francisco last September decided that the ILA had cleaned house, and the convention voted to take in the union as an affiliate.

Widows of Vets Eligible for GI Loans on Homes

Widows of World War II and Korea veterans who died in service or of service-connected causes are reminded that they are eligible for GI home loans by Charles L. Culver, counselor of the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and John B. Tyler, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency.

"A widow qualifies for the loan assistance even if the veteran had obtained a loan before he died," according to Culver and Tyler. "However, if the widow herself is a veteran and eligible to apply in her own right, she does not qualify for a second or third extra loan because of her husband's death."

Widows of World War II veterans have until July 26, 1960 to apply. The deadline for widows of Korea veterans is February 1, 1965.

Widows of both World War II and Korean veterans whose homes are covered by existing GI loans, but who would find it materially advantageous to dispose of their present holdings and move elsewhere under certain conditions can obtain a new loan, they continued. Those who have any questions about this provision or about making application for such a loan or for a new loan can get expert counseling and assistance at their New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and their Ulster County Veterans Service Agency located at 32 Main Street, or the branch office in Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson and Saugerties.

Rochester Plant Of GM to Resume Work on Monday

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—After a three-week suspension caused by the steel strike, the Rochester Products Division of General Motors Corp. will resume production Monday.

General Manager Wallace E. Wilson said Tuesday night 1,200 hourly wage workers would be recalled. A total of 1,400 had been laid off but 200 have been recalled since production stopped.

Several hundred other hourly wage employees were kept on for the entire period to perform essential work.

The division's 700 salaried employees were not affected by the lay-offs. Another GM division here, Delco Appliance, also plans to call back 1,800 of its 2,300 furloughed workers Monday.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath." Get PASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—America, home of stiff air line competition, may learn the Soviet brand before long.

Think It Through

E. F. HUTTON
THIRD PARTY LEVERAGE

A lot of folks are talking about organizing a third party. They think several things need doing.

Third parties seldom win at the polls. But give them time and courage; they have won many victories. This is done by being adopted into one, or both, of the two old parties.

The Abolitionists seldom elected a dozen Congressmen before the Civil War, but we have abolition.

Same with the Women Suffragists. Or the Populist and Socialist third parties. Their biggest vote was a paltry million, but you'll find a lot of their planks in the law books today.

The fact is that third parties exert tremendous leverage in the political machinery. This is because either of the two old parties seldom have more than 55% of the total vote.

That makes 5% important. A third party takes a strong stand on some issue, and threatens to run its own ticket, soon causes a platform plank or two to be tossed their way by one, or both, of the two old parties.

A recent Chicago gathering, spark-plugged by former Governor Lee of Utah, says the income tax has got to be cut down to pocketbook size.

The lowest tax rate today, 20%, is higher than the highest rate, 7%, when the tax was adopted in 1913. And the exemption was then $3,000; today, only $600.

That's votes in them thar hills!

Napanoch Mother Given Suspended Term Over Baby

CATSKILL, N. Y. (AP)—A 19-year-old mother who abandoned her four-day-old son along a dirt road last August has received a suspended prison sentence.

Judge Roy C. Moon of Greene County Court Tuesday sentenced Mrs. Suzanne Bennett Valenti of Napanoch, Ulster County, to serve 3½ to 5 years in prison, then suspended the sentence.

The child was found in a basket off Route 9W near New Baltimore four days after Mrs. Valenti had given birth in a Newburgh hospital.

She was arrested at her home Sept. 3.

Troopers said the woman told them she had abandoned the baby because she did not want friends to know he had been born so soon after her marriage. Her husband is not the father, she said.

The child has been placed in a foster home.

at the town auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Any interested people and parents may attend.

There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the 1960 Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Coupe!

PEOPLE SAY THESE ARE THE THINGS THEY WANT IN A CAR...and CHEVROLET for '60 comes closest to meeting every need!

Interviews with thousands of car owners across the country show clearly what they like or dislike about their present cars... and what they want most in their 1960 cars. Here's what the people tell us they want... and here's how Chevrolet meets their needs.

"Price, that's what's uppermost in my mind." All Impalas and Bel Airs with V8 engines are lower in price, as are automatic transmissions and many other popular options. Also Biscaynes now include as standard equipment conveniences formerly optional at extra cost.

"And how about operating economy? And resale value?" You keep right on saving after you buy your favorite Chevrolet, too. And Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value means you'll get more back when you trade.

"Give me plenty of good old-fashioned comfort." There's comfort and then some in this one. Chevy's long on space, for one thing. Once you're under way you'll know just how comfortable Full Coil suspension makes your ride.

"Safety—don't forget safety!" You're surrounded by safety features in a new Chevrolet. You've got big, sturdy brakes underfoot, for example, that last longer. As it has been for years, safety is standard equipment in Chevy.

"Let's keep upkeep down, too." More than ever, Chevrolet for 1960 is built to stay on the road and out of the repair shop. You can tell that from its hushed, unruffled way of going, from the solid thump of Chevy's big doors. Of course, if you should need service, you're always near efficient, economical attention to your needs.

"I want a car that will stand up to the driving I do." For proof of Chevy's staying power, just spend a minute watching the nearest road. You'll see more Chevrolets traveling on it than any other car—evidence-on-wheels of Chevrolet durability. (And that higher resale value attests to it, too.)

"Me for a sweet-handling car." Handling's always been Chevy's forte, and 1960 is no exception. But really, this kind of lightness and precision you've simply got to enjoy for yourself.

"... a car you can look at and be smug about buying it." Chevrolet for 1960 leaves the low-price field far behind when it comes to fashion. But you're the best judge of styling, so take a good close look at Chevrolet. We warn you: you're about to fall in love.

"And performance. Let's have a hot one!" Chevy's spirited V8's have set the standard for ultra-efficient power in American-built passenger car engines. You've got a long list of performance-minded transmissions to pick from, too.

So that, friends, is what you told us you want. We think it can be summed up rather well in just one word: value.

Gary Stevens To Make Second Appearance Here

When Gary Stevens brings his orchestra to Saugerties Municipal Building Saturday, Nov. 28, to furnish music for the 12th Annual Legion Ball his will be the second band in the history of the Legion Ball to play a return engagement for the event. Blue Barron and his sweet music played for the 1947 and 1949 Legion Balls and Stevens comes right back this year after a fine performance in 1957.

Those attending the '57 Ball at the Saugerties Municipal Auditorium came to see in person the popular Gary Stevens after watching him on WRGB TV for a few years on his nightly dinner time show. This year Stevens has a new, larger band and some of the vocals will be done by his band, songstress Miss Helen Bulin. Stevens is well known for his pleasing style of working with his band and public and is always ready to fill popular requests for special numbers from the floor.

Fine music is a tradition at the Legion Ball as well as the five act of stage show each year. Top bands of the nation have played at the Legion Ball such as Blue Barron, Tex Beneke and the Glenn Miller Band, Claude Thornhill, Tommy Tucker, Charlie Spivak, Sonny Dunham and others. Tickets for the stage show and Legion Ball are now on sale and may also be purchased at the door on Legion Ball Night.

Legion to Hear Veterans Day Rites on Tape

Saugerties Legionnaires who missed the local Veterans Day ceremonies in connection with the formal dedication of the new veterans memorial plaque at the Town building may hear a playback of the event by attending of Lamouree-Hackett Post No. 72, American Legion of Saugerties Thursday, at 8 p. m. at the Legion Home, John Street.

Radio Station WGHQ "taped" the ceremonies for a later broadcast and presented the tape to Supervisor Peter Williams who has planned to "re-play" it for tomorrow's Legion meeting. Final plans for the Legion Ball, scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 28, at the Saugerties Municipal Auditorium, will be discussed.

Village Board Disallows Wells Claim for $1,500

Saugerties Village Board disallowed two claims totaling $1,500 filed by Everett Wells and his wife Maria for injuries allegedly suffered by her in a mishap Nov. 8 on East Bridge Street in the street in front of the Crystal Lake Hotel.

The claim filed with Saugerties Village Clerk Ernest R. Ackert last Wednesday was read and acted on at the meeting of the board Monday night.

Attorney G. Thomas Rea Jr., filed a claim of $500 for Wells, and the other asked $1,000 for his wife, who said she suffered lacerations and contusions in a mishap involving a dislodged catch basin which was left without lights or barriers although the village had been given notice of the condition.

The board disallowed the claim as no written notice as required by law was given to the village about the alleged condition of the catch basin. The board contended that written notice of the condition should have been filed with the village clerk. Village Clerk Ackert said he had received no notice of the condition of the catch basin. Mr. and Mrs. Wells reside at 41 South Partition Street.

On a request of Angelo Provenzano, operator of a confectionery store on West Bridge and Ripley Streets, the board approved the installation of a street light on a utility pole at the intersection. Provenzano claimed that the unlighted condition of the street is responsible for various acts of vandalism to his and other properties on the street.

He claimed that on Halloween red paint was splattered on the Ripley Street side of his store. Vernon Joe Benjamin, chairman of Saugerties Youth Council presented a petition containing 24 names of residents with properties bordering the council's ice skating rink on Saugerties Central School District property situated on Main Street opposite Main Street School. The petition asks the village board to permit the council to continue operation of the ice skating rink on the property and agrees that the village will not be held responsible for any claims of damage in connection with the operation of the rink at that location.

The Youth Council closed the rink late last winter when some neighboring property owners claimed that water from the rink seeped into their cellars. Despite information to the contrary, reported at a Youth Council meeting, the rink was closed for the sake of good public relations.

The board approved the purchase of 24 chairs for the Exempt Firemen's rooms in the municipal building. A delegation of exempt firemen including Philip Breithaupt, Edwin Van Wart, and William McMonagall appeared before the board asking that the purchase be approved due to the poor condition of the chairs currently in use.

Mandeville Diaz, village water department superintendent, was appointed curator of the village museum situated in the basement of the village public library. The museum has not been in use for some time and Diaz offered to put it back in order. The position is unsalaried and filled annually by appointment.

As this will be the final meeting of the year, plans for the Christmas street lighting and Christmas parade party for the children of Saugerties will be outlined.

A testimonial dinner honoring the 12 exempt firemen of Malden-West Camp Fire Company will be served by the auxiliary tonight at 6 o'clock in West Camp parish hall, Super-

Interest Shown For Elks Lodge Formation Here

Sufficient interest was shown at a meeting Monday night for the formation of a BPO of Elks Lodge in Saugerties, and another session for further discussion was scheduled on Monday at 8 p. m. in Broome's Hotel, Partition Street.

The first meeting Monday night was held at American Legion Home, John Street. More than 20 attended.

Eugene F. Thornton, well-known local insurance agent was named temporary chairman. James Gunn of Mamaroneck, national grand lodge chairman of the new lodge committee addressed the group on the mechanics of establishing a new lodge in Saugerties.

District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler Edward Turchen of Middletown, also spoke, and Frank H. Simpson of Kingston, past exalted ruler of Kingston Lodge 550, a member of the committee for new lodges in the area, was in attendance.

Discussion brought out that some Saugerties members of the Kingston Lodge would transfer in the event a new lodge was formed in Saugerties.

William F. Edelmuth of Kingston, past state president, and a member of Kingston Lodge also spoke to the gathering.

The Monday night meeting is open to all interested men of the community, Simpson said.

Jaycees Plan Holiday Projects

At the Saugerties Jaycees monthly meeting at the Stonehill Hotel Monday night, the guest speaker was Thomas Logan, account executive for Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith. The speaker covered many topics including mutual investment companies, the stock exchanges, market pricing of stock and the position of the small investor. He also spoke on long-term and short-term investments.

The man-of-the-month award went to Graham Barkhuff, who was chairman of the recent "Pops" concert presented by the Jaycees.

A resolution to support the C. A. Lynch Fire Co. bond issue was passed after a lively discussion. Many facts were disclosed concerning the current condition and age of the equipment and the consequences if the referendum is voted down. Other facts brought out concerned what represents true protection of the community.

Two fund-raising projects voted on and passed were "Car Wash Day" and the sale of Christmas trees during the holiday season.

The Community Planning project was kicked off by Chairman William Bachelor and a committee was assigned. The project will involve a complete survey of the town as to areas in which the Jaycees can contribute their effort and planning. Slides were shown concerning what other communities have done in the area of community improvement.

Would Increase Requirements to Certify Teachers

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The requirements for certification of high school teachers should be raised, seven education advisory groups recommend.

In some cases, the groups say, the requirements should be doubled.

The recommendations, which apply to teachers of academic subjects, were contained in a preliminary report released Tuesday by Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr.

Allen said a final report recommending many revisions would be completed before the end of the year.

The preliminary report also proposed a system of examinations under which college graduates without teacher-training could demonstrate whether they were qualified to teach.

It also recommended that prospective high school teachers take at least half of their college courses in the liberal arts field—social science, natural sciences, the humanities and mathematics.

The advisory groups comprise professional educators in and out of the Education Department.

Allen said copies of the preliminary report had been sent to public schools, colleges and others interested in teacher training.

Mothers' Group Has Meeting; Discuss Holiday Gift Ideas

The recently monthly meeting of St. Joseph's Mothers Association was held in the school auditorium.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Lucille Ingarra, president, introduced Mrs. Mortimer Englander of the Mid-Way Gift Shop, who showed a group of gift ideas for "the gal who has everything."

Wall decor was also illustrated, with special interest shown in reproductions of Durer's "Praying Hands" and Sister Berta Hummel's "Temptation." The designs are formed by the ancient art of marquetry, using imported inlaid woods of many colors.

Immediately following Mrs. Englander's demonstration refreshments were served.

Mrs. Adam Porter Returns From DAR Regents' Meeting

Mrs. Adam H. Porter has returned from New York City where as president of the DAR Ex-Regent's Association of New York State, she presided at the annual luncheon meeting of the organization in the music room of the Biltmore Hotel.

Approximately 100 attended including State and National Officers, among whom were Mrs. Frank B. Cuff of White Plains, State Regent and Mrs. Harold E. Erb, first vice-president general who came up from Washington for the event. It was the 25th anniversary birthday party of the Association.

A three-tiered cake was cut by two former presidents, Mrs. G. Harvey Self of Upper Montclair, N. J., and Mrs. Jules A. Vuilleumier of Scarsdale.

The knife used to cut this cake and tied with silver ribbons was the same used by Mayor Edwin F. Radel when Kingston's 307th birthday cake was cut on June 5 in Academy Park as part of the Hudson-Champlain Celebration. The Ex-Regents' Association felt honored when informed of this significant fact.

On Saturday, Mrs. Porter spoke at the Brooklyn Women's Club before the members of Battle Pass Chapter, DAR on the subject of the Hudson-Champlain Celebration where she stressed Kingston's and Ulster County's notable part in New York State's Year of History.

Mrs. Edward Ahl, Catholic Action chairman, announced that the Columbiettes will serve at this dinner. Mrs. Ahl also thanked all the members who chaperoned at the Newman Club dances.

There will be a Christmas party Dec. 9, at Tommy's Restaurant, High Street. Instead of exchanging gifts, each member will bring a gift for a needy child. All members are invited.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. William Anderson, florist of Port Ewen showed the members how to do floral arrangements.

Refreshments were then served under the chairmanship of Mrs. Freida Klun.

THANK-YOU NOTE TO BROTHER

Dear Mr. Post: I would like your opinion on the following matter: When my husband's mother died, he sent a very beautiful floral piece to the funeral. Soon after the funeral, his sister who took care of acknowledging the flowers, sent my husband a thank-you note for the flowers he sent. I thought this very strange seeing as he is himself a member of the family, and in my opinion this acknowledgment made him seem an "outsider." Are members of the family sent thank-you notes?

Answer: No, thank-you notes are not usually sent to members of the immediate family, but because your sister-in-law was over-punctilious in writing to everyone who sent flowers does not mean she considers her brother an "outsider."

A Stranger Cuts In

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently at a dance a young man cut in who was a stranger. I didn't know whether I had to go on dancing or whether it would have been permissible for me to refuse.

Answer: At a very small informal dance, given either by an individual host or hostess or by a fraternity or sorority, the friend-of-roof of your host is considered an introduction. But at any public, or large formal dance, a man may not cut in on a girl to whom he has not been introduced. She would therefore be right in refusing, if she is sure she has never met him—but she must be sure! Otherwise, to refuse to let any one who has been introduced to her cut in, is an unforgivable rudeness.

Sisterhood Stresses Spiritual Aspects Of Its Organization

Sisterhood of Temple Emanuel held its recent regular monthly meeting in the social hall of the Temple, 243 Albany Avenue. Mrs. Herbert Kletske, president, opened the meeting with a minute of silence to mark Veterans' Day.

A report was given concerning the successful supper held Oct. 28. Four guests were introduced. Various activity chairmen made their reports. The social action chairman made a report of the work of the committee and it was decided to circulate the publication of the Social Action Commission "Social Action in Review" among the members of the Sisterhood.

Mrs. Kletske said that although money raising is important, the Sisterhood is chiefly concerned with the more spiritual aspects of its work. She stressed Temple attendance, adult education and community responsibility through social action.

A film entitled, "Youth Wants to Know" which was obtained from the National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods in New York City, was shown. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Women Voters Start Fund Campaign Here

Mrs. William Haggerty, a past board member of the state board of directors of both Connecticut and New York and a past president of the Mansfield, Conn., and New Paltz League of Women Voters, launched the local fund raising drive of the Kingston Provisional LWV. She stated the first objective was to raise funds. The second objective provided the opportunity to tell the story "the League of Women Voters is not a club which promotes its own interests—it is trying to provide service for all citizens." Membership in the League affords one the opportunity to learn "how to gather facts, be objective, overcome prejudices, discuss, make decisions, and take a stand."

Mrs. Donovan Buehring, campaign chairman, announced the drive was a limited one and that letters had been sent to prospective contributors. The campaign will be conducted from November 16-28.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Henry White, Newsheet chairman. Mrs. Harry Cornwell, consultant to the local league, answered questions of the solicitors concerning the use of League materials for the campaign.

Six Lettermen Report to Saugerties High Basketball Squad

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

The impact of huge, modern tenpin establishments on an observer who has been away from the scene several years is nothing short of startling.

The first and perhaps most vivid impression is the totality with which a 40-alley layout, let's say, engulfs a simple eight-team league. Time was when an 8-team circuit occupied the whole house and created a lot more sound and fury than 40 teams going full clip in these days of modern acoustics. Today, in the middle of the house, it is scarcely noticed.

The surroundings change, but bowlers remain essentially the same. The camaraderie of early days is missing. After all, one does need a telescope to identify a person 40 alleys away. The old fashioned rivalries seem to be missing. Bowling is big business, acts like big business these days and services its personnel with the intensity of a chain store.

The advent of the automatic pinspotters was the turning point in bowling history. It removed an albatross from the operator's neck—the pinboy. It took many years to remove the pinboy from near serfdom, but in time they actually took over establishments. They came in all sizes and ages, height and width and weight and, of course, an infinite range of tempers. They reached their obnoxious peak during the severe manpower shortage of the war years when their "sitdown strikes" created turmoil and exasperation.

It's a much bigger and better game these days. An evening in a modern bowling establishment is a rewarding experience.

• The Growth of Recognition:

Time was when the medal or ring for a perfect "300" score was the American Bowling Congress' big pitch, along with standardized equipment and annually resurfaced alleys. Then came the association award for high individual triple. That list has grown, too. Bowlers now get awards for 300, 299, and 298 games, with appropriate chevrons for shirts; a card and buckle or belt for 11 strikes in a row; state and city association champions in all divisions, sponsor's certificates, award of merit for high three games in the association by an individual, the achievement award for the bowler who shows greatest improvement in average in a particular league; league championship chevrons, the Big 4 patch (double pinhole split); the 7-10 emblem and the triplicate award. Plenty for a bowler to shoot at these days.

• Chichelsky's Chatter:

Bob Shlightner with his first seven hundred (on the nose) and Bob Peterson with 651 were the top Bowlers of the Week. Frank Turk, Matty Weishaup and Herb Williams had their first 600 series of the season. Hiltpf Rest is on top in the torrid City Minor race. Leo Stauble and George Barringer coming up with big scores. Barringer took almost all the Elvetel League awards last season. . . . Vance LeWare is the most energetic secretary in the KBA. Norm Roamer is another secretary who puts his heart and soul into his work. . . . Bowling Oddity: Two brothers, Jerry and Jack Gruber, are carrying the same average for Pride Cleaners in the Good Neighbor League.

• Terry Beckert's Tenpin Topics:

The past weekend was certainly a record breaking one for our town's women kegglers. Dot Rawling led the heavy bombing with a big 672 series in the Hudson Valley League at Cornwall. This is currently high triple for the league as well as the city and a career high for Dot. She now has two 600 triples to her credit this season, her first being a 638 in the HWVL at Sangi's Bowlero, high single honors went to Evelyn Gross with a 253. She now has high solo for the league, as well as the city. She had a 591 to go with the big game, her best triple this season. Keep with that new ball, Evelyn. . . . Congratulations to Bev Nicholas and Celeste Estenes on their recent engagements; also to Ann Sinagra and Mildred Mackey on their recent marriages. . . . The bells are really ringing in the Friendship League! On Schneider's Jewelers, each time a girl marks, her teammates ring a bell. Wonder what it would sound like if each team did the same thing? (Editor's Note: Don't be surprised if a bunch of cows came tramping through the front door). . . . Some noteworthy scores since the last items were Ethel Henderson's 576 (a career high); Arlene Corrado's 557 and 543 by Rosemary Pillsbury. The New York State Woman's Bowling Association tournament opens Thursday, March 10, at Geneva. Entries close Jan. 10 and entry blanks for this 27th annual women's bowling tournament are now available at the local alleys. Don't forget the next open meeting of the KWBA. It will be held on Nov. 23, at 7:15 p. m. at the Y.M.C.A. Let's have a record turnout.

Cooper Stops Erskine in 12th

LONDON (AP)—Henry Cooper, British and Empire heavyweight champion, today announced he has one fighter in mind for his next bout — world champion Ingemar Johansson of Sweden.

Cooper's confidence stems from his successful defense of the British title against challenger Joe Erskine Tuesday night.

The fight ended after 2:55 of the 12th round with Erskine sprawled across the ropes.

Erskine had been down for two counts of seven a few minutes earlier. Then Cooper waded in and knocked Erskine unconscious with a fusillade of killer punches.

Referee Eugene Henderson stopped the fight—Though Erskine was out for a good 30 seconds. "Now the fighter I want to meet is Ingemar Johansson," the 25-year-old Cooper said.

"I think I can defeat Johansson and win the title for Britain."

Cooper currently is rated fifth challenger for Johansson's world title. Erskine had been No. 7 on the list.

Sawyers Seen As Title Threat In DCSL Race

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Six returning lettermen and several hot shot jayvee players from last year promise to make the 1959-60 cage season at Saugerties High School a successful one. Coach Buddy Smith, former Ithaca College star, is drilling his varsity squad through their practice drills in preparation for the opener, Nov. 25 against Catskill.

Smith, now in his fifth season as head man of the basketball at Saugerties, is hurting two ways. Bob Wolven, a regular last season and who figured to be one of the top players in the circuit this time around, will probably not see action.

"Mouse" crushed his left hand in an accident during the summer. It has not healed. To make matters worse, he suffered an injury during the football season which required 10 stitches in his left leg. He is presently on crutches.

The other problem confronting the Sawyers is the lack of a good big man, though the overall height is good. Carter Bill Eckhoff is only 6-1 and he's the tallest member of the squad. "However, he will be tough off the boards because of a few added pounds," Coach Smith remarked.

Barry Wolven Returns

Returning lettermen are headed by Barry Wolven, a Freeman selection as an All-DCSL player last season. Barry, a good athlete, will be one of the starting guards.

Others back for another fling are seniors Bob Whitaker, John Snyder, Bill Lezette, Eckhoff and Jerry Dunger. Jim Bennisson, another senior, is also on the squad. Jayvee stars who have been promoted are juniors Steve Dickhaut and John Nolan and sophomores Al Hrdlicka and Bill Schirmer. The latter is still a question mark because of scholastic difficulties.

Another good looking prospect is Russ Talmadge, the football quarterback. He's also a junior.

Two Have Graduated

Saugerties finished third in the Dutchess County Scholastic League race last season after one of the tightest races in the history of the circuit. Only two members of that team graduated. They are Mike Cowley and Bob Myers.

Will the team do better this time? "I think so," remarked Coach Smith. He cites his big reason for being optimistic is because of more depth on the bench. Smitty tabs Eckhoff and Barry Wolven as two sure starters with the other three positions still open.

In evaluating the rest of the DCSL, Coach Smith tabs Arlington as a team that is always tough. He feels newcomer Cardinal Farley Military Academy will be a contender and rates Wappingers Falls, Roosevelt and Beacon as good clubs. "We will definitely have a league in which any club can beat the other on a given day," he adds.

The Sawyers will play 18 games, including two in the Christmas Tournament, scheduled at the SHS gym on Monday, Dec. 28, and Tuesday, Dec. 29. Other clubs entered are Onteora, Clarkstown and Ravena. This is the first tournament of its kind in the area and Athletic Director Bill Straub feels it will be a success.

The schedule:

Date	Opponent	Where
Nov. 25	Catskill	Home
Dec. 4	*Arlington	Home
Dec. 11	*Roosevelt	Away
Dec. 19	*Cardinal Farley	Home
Dec. 23	*Highland	Home

Watch Willie Go, McCovey, That Is, Says Skip Rigney

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Named National League Rookie of the Year, Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants looks forward to 1960 for his first real test.

"Next season should really show how I'll do in the big leagues," the 6-foot-4 first baseman said Tuesday.

Manager Bill Rigney has no such doubts. "Watch him go in 1960," said Rigney. "He could be baseball's next 400 hitter."

McCovey was the unanimous choice of the 24-member selection committee of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America.

He crashed into the majors July 30 with two triples and two singles in four times at bat, bringing the Giants out of a slump. He continued through 52 games to finish with a .354 average and 13 home runs.

"With the wind blowing into right field at Candlestick Park instead of to the left as at Seals Stadium," Rigney said, "there's no telling what a lefty swinger of Willie's talents might do."

Play Begins in YMCA Winter Cage League

Jim's Atlantic dumped Kerhonkson, 61-45, and the Mixers topped DeWitt's, 65-36, in opening games of the Senior Cage League last night at the YMCA court. In a Minor League attraction, the Byrne Chevies won a 54-43 decision from the 35 Club.

Hi Van Wagenen hooped 20 points and Rich Hilton had 14 as the Atlantic cagers went into an early lead and held it the rest of the way. Bruce Ruffner did his best for Kerhonkson with 17 points and Len Whitten chipped in with 12.

The Mixers were ahead, 9-5, after the first period of their game against the DeWitt cagers and they added to the cushion while setting the victory. Six players hit consistently for the Byrne cagers in their win. The Chevies had to score 31 points in a blistering fourth quarter to come from behind. They trailed, 34-23, after three periods.

Vince Hart made 13 points and Tom Thompson and Art Carpozis 10 each for the winners. Charles Marabel led the 35 Club with 14 markers.

Norman Clinches Offense Crown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stanford's Dick Norman apparently has the total offense title locked up, but things are a little complicated in the race for the rushing championship as major college football starts drawing the curtain on regular season play this weekend.

Norman has a whopping, 251 yard margin over runner-up Pete Hall, Marquette's workhorse wonder as each goes into his final game Saturday. Norman, with a 1,652-yard total, faces California, while Hall with 1,401 yards, pitches against Holy Cross.

Iowa State's Tom Watkins and Dwight Nichols could become the first teammates ever to run 1-2 in the final national rushing figures, according to NCAA Service Bureau statistics released today. But there's only a total of 160 yards separating the top 11. Watkins, No. 1 with 775, and Nichols, second with 711, face Oklahoma in their final game Saturday.

Norman also is No. 1 in passing with 118 completions on 224 attempts. Cincinnati's Jack Lee is No. 2 with 116 in 201 tosses, while Hall is third with 102 for 211.

Don Meredith of Southern Methodist has two games left, but seems sure to set a national career record for passing accuracy. He stands at .619 with 218 completions in 352 attempts and could miss on 29 consecutive passes and still better the .571 record set by Paul Larson at California in 1952-54.

Minuteman Missile openings for Electronic-Electrical Engineers and Physicists in the field of Electronic Ground Equipment

The Minuteman solid-propellant ICBM missile program at Boeing has created openings at all levels — INCLUDING TECHNICAL MANAGEMENT — for electronic-electrical engineers and physicists with B.S., M.S. or Ph.D. degrees. These are long-range positions with Boeing's Aero-Space Division, offering opportunities for advancement. Salaries range from $10,000 a year.

Assignments are in the field of design and integration of electronic systems for Minuteman ground electronic digital equipment. Positions require the development of a broad knowledge of Minuteman weapon system design and the application of this knowledge to ground equipment development. Applicants should have six years of experience in electronic circuit development and system design, four years of this in the digital equipment field.

Location is Seattle, Washington, where you'll enjoy the advantages of the evergreen Pacific Northwest area, famous for mild year-round climate, unexcelled recreational facilities and outdoor Western living. Boeing pays relocation allowances.

Zora Folley, Johnson Set For TV Fight

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Zora Folley, second - ranked heavy-weight contender from Chandler, Ariz., fights promising Alonzo Johnson of Pittsburgh tonight in the strange surroundings of a swanky motel patio with tux-clad fans sipping champagne cocktails.

The 10-round bout from the Caravan East Inn on Phoenix's famed motel row will be televised nationally (ABC-8 p. m. MST). The Phoenix-area will not be blacked out.

Promoters have set two ticket prices and two modes of dress. For those in the $25-a-seat section, black ties, tux and evening gowns are required. After the fight, a 10-piece orchestra will strike a note and customers can dine and dance under the stars.

It's a come-as-you-are affair for those in the $5.50 temporary bleacher seats. These fans are entitled to 10 rounds of boxing, or less, with no fancy frills.

Pre-fight promotion has been as bizarre as the setting surrounding the fight.

Knicks Snap Losing Streak, Defeat St. Louis, 105-97

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Eastern division still is slapping the Western clubs around in the National Basketball Assn. and even the New York Knicks are in on it.

Boston's world champion Celtics had to scramble but put away their 11th victory in 12 games this season with a 132-129 double overtime decision at Detroit Tuesday night. That gave them an 8-1 record against the West.

The Detroit loss left St. Louis in the Western lead by a game over the Pistons although the Hawks were beaten 105-97 by the Knicks, who had lost five in a row. New York has only a 3-10 record and all three victories are over Western clubs.

Syracuse, third in the East, topped Cincinnati 121-116 in the opener of the twinbill at New York's Madison Square Garden. The Nats are 4-2 against the West.

Jones Wins It
A breakaway layup by Sam Jones won for the Celtics, who now have taken five straight and lead second place Philadelphia by two games in the Eastern race. Jones and Bill Sharman, each scoring 28 points, kept Boston's string intact. Gene Shue was the game's leading scorer with 35 points.

The Knicks scored their first home victory of the season as Kenny Sears' jump shot and Mike Farmer's drive-in broke up a 20-20 Hawk surge. Cliff Hagan of the Hawks was high with 27 points while Sears followed with 25, getting 20 in the last half.

Dolph Schayes and George Yardley triggered a Syracuse comeback after the Nats had blown a 10-point lead and trailed the Royals by nine. Schayes finished with 30 points. Jack Twyman led scoring with 38 points, hitting half of the Royals' 20 first half field goals.

New Pro Grid League To Get Top Rookies

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Lamar Hunt, founder of the American Football League, says the teams will be mostly rookies next fall. But, with appeals of pay, geography and a better chance to play, he hopes his club at least will field the top rookies.

Hunt told a news conference Tuesday the new league has three groups studying available talent and the information will be pooled. He acknowledged that most of the players drafted by the American Football League at its draft Nov. 23 will also be drafted by the National Football League.

But, as far as his Dallas Texans are concerned, anyway, Hunt sees pretty good prospects.

"There are lots of Southwest Conference players in the National Football League now," he said. "We think many of this year's crop would like to stay in this area, where they live and prob-

John Unitas Nearing Pro Passing Record

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Johnny Unitas, Baltimore's star quarterback, is close to breaking a National Football League record for the most touchdown passes in one season.

He's only third among leading passers, league statistics released today show, but he's thrown 22 for touchdowns, the last three in the Colts' 28-24 victory over Green Bay Sunday.

Only Six Short

That's only six short of the record set by Chicago's Sid Luckman in 1943. Unitas has four games to go.

Unitas also leads the league in total yards gained passing. He has 2,133 compared with the 1,622 of Norm Van Brocklin of Philadelphia.

Frank Rice of Los Angeles, who hadn't attempted enough passes last week to qualify for passing honors, jumped into first place this week with 68 attempts (one more than needed to qualify), 36 completions, 566 yards gained and the all-important average gain of 8.76.

Ralph Guglielmi of Washington was second with 67 attempts, 30 completions, 562 yards and an 8.39 average. Unitas, with 251 attempts and 135 completions, has an 8.17 average.

Georgia Quarterback Named 'Back of Week'

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Francis Tarkenton, a 19-year-old junior quarterback at Georgia, today was named "Back of the Week" by The Associated Press for his performance against Auburn in the game that clinched the Southeastern Conference title for the Bulldogs.

With 30 seconds to go, Georgia trailing 13-7, fourth down and 13 to go, Tarkenton hit end Bill Heron in a corner of the end zone, Durward Pennington, a placement specialist, then calmly kicked the extra point that meant victory, 14-13.

Pin Point Passing

It was Tarkenton's pinpoint passing to fullback Don Soberdash that set up the score after guard Pat Dye had recovered an Auburn fumble on the Auburn 35. He completed passes for 16 and 9 yards to Soberdash and then finally connected with Heron on a last-chance throw.

Penn State's Richie Lucas staged another tremendous show, gaining 216 yards in a 46-0 romp over Holy Cross. The star quarterback set a new university career record with a total of 1,184 yards, erasing the old mark set by Lenny Moore.

Mississippi had double heroes in its 37-7 victory over Tennessee, the team that beat both Auburn and Louisiana State. Charlie Flowers ground out 168 yards in 26 carries, scoring one touchdown. Jack Gibbs passed for two scores and set up a third.

Stickles Second In Scoring for Notre Dame Team

Monty Stickles, Notre Dame's All-America end, is second on the team in scoring with 27 points, according to figures released by the school's publicity office.

The senior from Foughkeepsie, who led the team in scoring in 1957 with 32 points and last season with 60 points, has 27 so far this season. Monty has a touchdown, 12 extra points in 13 attempts and three successful field goals.

Junior Bob Scarpitto is leading the Irish in scoring with 48 points. The swift halfback had eight touchdowns, four of them coming on passes.

Scarpitto has caught 14 passes in eight games for a total of 286 yards. Stickles ranks second with eight passes caught for 167 yards and a touchdown. Monty also ran two yards on a punt return.

Defensive statistics show that center Bob Scholtz leads in tackles with 70. Captain Ken Adamson ranks second with 65 and Nick Buoniconti has 47. Stickles stands fourth with 45, seven more than he made all last season.

Other defensive statistics give Stickles credit for breaking up a pass, recovering a fumble and blocking a kick. He has played 287 minutes in eight games. Last year Stickles led the Irish in playing time, seeing action in 350 minutes.

Notre Dame, now showing a 3-5 record for the season, will be at the University of Iowa on Saturday and is in for a tough time with the nation's second ranked offensive club. The Hawkeyes stand 6-3 for the season.

Haughton Boosts Season Earnings Over Million Mark

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP)—For the second year in succession, Billy Haughton, America's leading harness racing driver, has amassed purse-earnings of $1,000,000.

The 36-year-old reinsman from Brookville boosted his seasonal earnings over the million dollar mark Tuesday night when he guided Actor Pick to victory in the sixth race, a Class A pacing event, at Roosevelt Raceway.

No other driver in the 153-year history of harness racing ever earned a million dollars in one season until Haughton accounted for $1,038,800.00 last season. Haughton's 1959 purse-earnings now total $1,000,949.00. It is unlikely he'll be able to equal or surpass last season's mark before the current campaign closes at Roosevelt on Nov. 30.

In the feature race, Demon Damsel snapped a three-race losing streak by scoring a length and one-half victory over Dundee B. in the Carolina Class A trot. The time for the mile was 2:07 1-5. John Caton drove the 4-year-old mare for owners Robert and Henry Critchfield, Wooster, Ohio. Demon Damsel, second choice in the betting, returned $7.30. Favored Shadydale Nifty finished third.

Comets, Bears Tied In Floor Hockey Loop

The Comets dropped their first game of the season, 5-3, to the Bears to highlight the Kingston YMCA Prep Floor Hockey League action. In other games the Thunderbirds blanked the Tornados, 6-0, and the Hawks upset second place Commaches, 6-1.

Willis Locke sank all six goals for his team in the win over the Tornados.

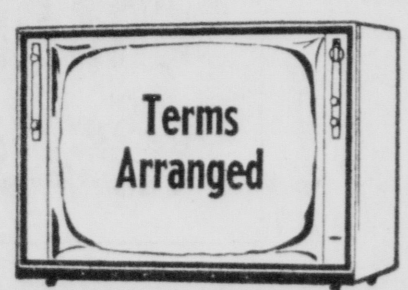

Dan Luby and Bob Kent had a pair of goals and Chet Baltz had one for the Hawks. George Anderson popped, in the lone Commache score.

In the feature game, Howard Bodie scored two goals and Ted Lewis was held to one as the Bears moved into a first place tie with the Comets. Art Mowle flipped in four and Bill Bruce one for the winning side.

The standings:

Comets	4	1	1
Bears	4	1	1
Commaches	4	2	0
Thunderbirds	1	4	1
Hawks	3	2	2
Tornados	1	4	1

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — This is the week when college football turns back to its finest hours—the traditional rivalries between ancient and legendary foes.

The game reverts to the era of handlebar mustaches, turtle-neck sweaters, Dick Merriwell derring-do and "this is the most important day of our lives" attitude with Yale and Harvard having it out in the Bowl, Indiana battling Purdue for the Old Oaken Bucket, California at Stanford, etc.

These battles don't have to be for championships or Bowl invitations. Throw out what has happened. Victory means a successful season. The games are as dear to the hearts of Old Grads as The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi and the Old School Tie.

Harvard has a rousing halfback in Chet Boulris, but Yale is evening scores this fall with Tom Singleton directing the Eli attack behind a superior line. It is the first time in 13 years that the two have decided the Big Three tie. Singleton had a perfect passing afternoon against Princeton. Riverboat Ravenel leaves considerable to be desired as a pitcher. This could be the principal reason for picking Yale in The Game.

Dartmouth found itself after a poor start and Bill Gundy and Jack Crouthamel should carry the momentum through Princeton.

PITTSBURGH SUDDENLY POPPED up with two sophomores, Freddie Cox and Bob Clements, and a junior back, Jim Cunningham, who looked so formidable in the last two outings that this handicapper gives you the Panthers over Penn State in an upset.

Pennsylvania has been Cornell's happy hunting ground in more recent campaigns, but the Quakers are too well balanced and have too much speed this trip, so should clinch the Ivy League crown on Thanksgiving Day. Boston University is a little more formidable than Colgate, but Syracuse will roll on.

Switching to the midwest, Wisconsin is picked to keep its oar in the Rose Bowl stream by mauling Minnesota. Northwestern, seeking the same assignment, could have more trouble at Illinois, although I like the Wildcats. I look for Indiana to kick over the Old Oaken Bucket and spill Purdue. Ohio State will grind out a victory over Michigan with Iowa topping discouraged Notre Dame.

IN THE SOUTH, OFF THE records, Tennessee looks like a leadpipe cinch against Kentucky, but the Volunteers, who beat the Wildcats for years, haven't had much luck since Blanton Collier took over in Lexington. Kentucky has won five and tied one in the last seven autumns, but this is a fresh deal and I am selecting the Vols who upset Auburn and Louisiana State.

The choice is Virginia Tech to beat Virginia Military in the tight Southern Conference race. Nov. 26, with Duke repelling a higher-rated North Carolina side. Louisiana State takes Tulane in stride. Auburn disposes to Mississippi Southern the same way.

Michigan State is so stout for Miami of Coral Gables, Clemson for Wake Forest, South Carolina for North Carolina State. The figures show West Virginia over The Citadel and Florida over Florida State, the latter a contest between insecure coaches.

IN THE BIG EIGHT, Kansas is the choice to repel Missouri and go to the Orange Bowl. Iowa State's Dirty Thirty are capable of stirring up trouble, but you've got to stick to Oklahoma.

In the southwest, it's Texas Christian over Rice, Southern Methodist over Baylor, Arkansas over Texas Tech in a close one, and Texas over Texas A. and M. the latter on Thanksgiving Day.

On the Pacific coast, Washington should clinch the Rose Bowl appointment against Washington State. All-conquering Southern California has to be the choice against UCLA in the toughest crosstown rivalry in the country. Oregon is too slick for Oregon State and Stanford's passing a puzzle to California. New Mexico isn't quite up to the Air Force.

But don't forget what old Bob Zupke said about the football bouncing funny.

Scheffing May Manage A's Team

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Columnist Bob Busby of the Kansas City Star predicted Tuesday night that Bob Scheffing, manager of the Chicago Cubs last season, would manage the Kansas City Athletics next year.

Scheffing, now a coach for the Milwaukee Braves, denied it. "Look for the announcement of a new manager of the Athletics this week and don't be surprised if it's Bob Scheffing..." Busby said in his column.

The Athletics' management couldn't be reached for comment. But Scheffing told the St. Louis Globe-Democrat by telephone from his home in Mesa, Ariz.: "I'm all set with Milwaukee. Before I took the job with the Braves I might have been interested but not now. I'd rather stay in the National League."

Scheffing, a catcher, played with the Cubs, Cincinnati and St. Louis from 1941 through 1951. He was named manager of the Cubs in October, 1956 and was released at the end of last season.

Kansas City has been without a manager since Harry Craft was fired at the end of the season, when the A's finished seventh.

Municipal Stadium.

Because of the late opening, Cleveland will play but four games here in April, but will have 15 home dates in September.

The Indians have two Sunday dates here with the pennant-winning Chicago White Sox—a doubleheader on May 15 and a single game on Sept. 25, the last home date on the schedule.

United States Is Trailing In Canada Golf Competition

MELBOURNE (AP) — A Brilliant 3-under-par 67 by former British Open champion Peter Thomson shot favored Australia into a 7-stroke first round lead in the Canada Cup golf competition today and a dazzling finish by Sam Snead saved the United States from complete humiliation.

Thomson's 67, coupled with an even par 70 by Kel Nagle, gave the Aussies a total score of 137, seven shots better than the 144 shared by three countries, South Africa, Canada and Wales.

The United States was one stroke back in fifth place at 145 when it appeared its team was doomed to blow chances on the opening round over the 6,833-yard Royal Melbourne course.

Snead riddled home an eagle on the long 17th and sank a 15-foot birdie on the 18th for a 73 while his partner, Dr. Cary Middlecoff, finished with a steady and creditable 72.

"Seven or eight shots mean nothing in this tournament," said Snead afterward. "You can make them up on nine holes and we have three more days to play." Thomson, the only man on the course who apparently found pleasure in the massive lightning fast greens, took a 3-stroke lead for individual honors over teammate Nagle, Stan Leonard of Canada and Flory Van Donck of Belgium who tied at 70.

Dave Thomas of Wales had a 71 while Middlecoff was tied at 72 with Harold Henning and Gary Player of South Africa and the surprising Haryoshi Kobari of Japan.

Life of Infant Girl Saved by Utica Surgeons

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—An eight-week-old girl, her life saved when surgeons simultaneously massaged her heart and breathed air into her lungs, was gaining weight today in a hospital.

The infant, Catherine Franco, underwent the double crisis two weeks ago. Since then, she has gained six ounces and now weighs 9 pounds, 9 ounces.

Officials at St. Elizabeth's Hospital told the story Tuesday night: Catherine was brought to the hospital Oct. 13 from Griffiss Air Force Base in nearby Rome. She was suffering from a respiratory infection and an obstruction in her breathing.

A surgeon decided to cut open her throat and insert a tube for breathing. But fearing that she might stop breathing during this operation, he inserted a tube into the windpipe through the mouth before making an incision.

She stopped breathing. The surgeon immediately began blowing air through the tube into her lungs.

Then her heart stopped. Another surgeon, attending a patient in a nearby room, was summoned. He cut open Catherine's chest and massaged her heart. In 20 seconds, it resumed normal beating.

Ten minutes later she began to breathe normally.

Catherine is recovering well, a hospital spokesman said.

The hospital said the surgeons declined to be identified.

Catherine is the daughter of Army Specialist 4C and Mrs. Raymond Franco of Herkimer. Franco was down home from Korea when his daughter became ill.

200,000 Needed, Marine Corps Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marine Corps is hoping again for congressional support to lift the 175,000 manpower ceiling imposed by the administration.

"We need 200,000 men," said Brig. Gen. Lewis C. Hudson, assistant chief of staff, told newsmen in outlining the corps' present ability and future hopes. Its wishful thinking calls for at least 235,000 men to keep its divisions fully manned and equipped.

Congress several times has provided sufficient funds to increase the Marine Corps to 200,000 men, but the administration has impounded the extra money and held the corps to the 175,000-man ceiling. It had recommended. Next year's budget is understood to provide once again for 175,000 Marines.

Gen. Hudson and other Marine staff officers at the briefing declined to take issue with budget decisions, but they outlined plans which called for more manpower even as they told of the corps' present strength.

At Camp Lejeune, N.C., the 2nd Division has at all times a battalion force of about 1,800 men on a 15-minute alert for movement anywhere in the Atlantic or European area.

With three aircraft carriers adapted to leatherneck needs, three additional battalions can be launched simultaneously by helicopter over or around enemy defenses and fight with atomic or conventional firepower.

The corps has now three divisions and three air wings, but under the current manpower limitations it has eliminated two battalions from each division, is manning the remainder of the combat units at 90 per cent strength and has reduced the numbers of men and planes in its air wings.

Sea Link Defense Is Job For All, NATO Chief Feels

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Allied commander for the Atlantic today called for increased contributions by all NATO nations to defend the vital sea link between North America and Europe.

Adm. Jerauld Wright told a conference of NATO parliamentarians, "The defense of the Atlantic is not a one or a two or a three-nation task. It is what we call an 'all hands job,' one to which all NATO nations can contribute."

He added, "We appreciate that most nations cannot afford the highly complex and sophisticated naval weapons involved in all aspects of our naval defenses, but there are many tasks in which they all have the technical capability and, we hope, the economic capacity, for increased assistance."

"Such matters are: convoy escort operations by ships and ASW (anti-submarine warfare) and maritime air, mine clearance, communications support."

Wright said nuclear-powered submarines, homing torpedoes and atomic depth charges are available to NATO forces, and described the interlocking effort of Canada and the United States to protect the Atlantic coast from submarine attack.

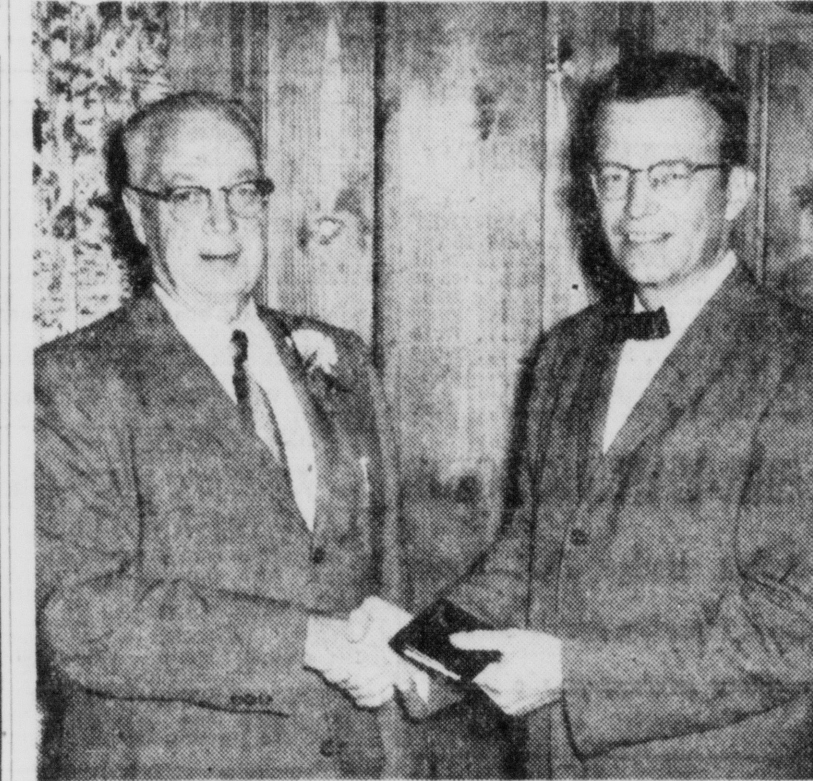

"The economic policies of our NATO nations on defense expenditures presently permit only token coverage of the area but we have developed the technique, applicable to both sides of the Atlantic, and are able to extend our coverage if and when the forces are made available," he said.

Retirement Age

A survey among United States executives reveals that nearly 30 per cent of them would like to retire between the ages of 58 and 62. Only 2 per cent want to retire under 48, while nearly 6 per cent set the age at 73 or over.

About 140 friends and fellow workers gathered at a retirement party, at the SRS Home Cottetkill last week to bid farewell to William J. Blair, (left) who retired from the New York Telephone Company on Nov. 1 after 35 years of service.

Mr. Blair was presented with a pair of binoculars and power tools by those attending. He also received the traditional wallet and identification card recognizing him as a retired employee of the company. W. W. Read, division commercial supervisor, made the presentation. Mr. Blair began work with the company in 1924 as a commercial agent in Poughkeepsie. Two years later he assumed the same position in Hudson and shortly thereafter was transferred to Albany as a commercial representative. Since 1942 he has lived and worked in Kingston in various positions connected with the Commercial Department by the company. During his many years as an active employee, Mr. Blair has been closely associated with the tremendous growth of the telephone business in and around the Hudson Valley area.

Born in Staatsburg, Mr. Blair attended schools there and graduated from Syracuse University in 1921. He is married to the former Emma Meyer, of Hudson. They are members of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. Mr. Blair is a member of Hudson Lodge No. 7, F. & A.M. They reside at 31 Plymouth Avenue.

During the evening, Mr. Blair, a member of the Telephone Pioneers of America also was presented with a life membership in the organization. The organization is made up of active and retired employees with more than 21 years of company service. (Tom Reynolds photo).

Hercules to Put Up Multimillion Louisiana Plant

WILMINGTON, Del. — Hercules Powder Company today disclosed it would build a multimillion dollar polypropylene plant at Lake Charles, La., designed for ultimate capacity in excess of 100 million pounds a year.

This will be the second Hercules plant for the production of polypropylene. The first Hercules plant, which was also the only commercial polypropylene plant in North America for a year-and-a-half, and one of the largest in the world, has been in operation at Parlin, N. J., since the latter part of 1957.

Construction of the new and larger facility will get underway immediately, with completion of the first 50-million pound unit scheduled for early 1961.

Albert E. Forster, president and board chairman of Hercules, said the company's decision to expand polypropylene capacity was based on a widespread market acceptance of polypropylene for use in film and fiber, as well as injection-molded plastics items.

"Pro-fax," trademark for Hercules polypropylene, was developed at the company's research center only three years after it began work on high-density polyethylene.

In addition to its use in scores of injection-molded articles, "Pro-fax" is being used to make rope, auto seat covers and outdoor furniture webbing, and in textiles.

Kingston Will Be Freight Center, 4 Agents Are Going

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Public Service Commission authorized the New York Central Railroad today to consolidate freight operations on its 89-mile Catskill Mountain branch.

The Central will make its Kingston station headquarters for freight operations and drop resident freight agents at Arkville, Rosbury, Stamford and Hobart. The branch extends between Kingston and Kortright Station.

The move is another in a series of consolidations by the Central.

Widow Asks $250,000 From Cigarette Firms

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A widow is asking seven cigarette companies to pay her and her two minor children $250,000 on grounds her husband smoked cigarettes and died of lung cancer.

The suit was filed on behalf of Hazel Shields of Holdenville, Okla., in Oklahoma District Court Tuesday.

She contends her husband, Ed Shields, smoked two to three packages of cigarettes per day and had smoked since he was 15 years old.

Mrs. Shields contended the companies and distributors named failed to protect the public health. The suit also alleges the defendants warranted their products were wholesome.

LITTLE LIZ

Why is it a wrong telephone number is never busy?

So They Say..

You can't ask a poor man to choose between the gold and diamonds he finds in New York or Moscow. He must take them where he finds them and do the best he can.

—President Sekou Toure of Guinea, on U. S.-Russian rivalry in Africa.

I never said that I would serve a full four-year term (as governor). I think people who make that kind of commitment find themselves in embarrassing positions.

—New York governor and presidential prospect Nelson Rockefeller.

Why We Say--

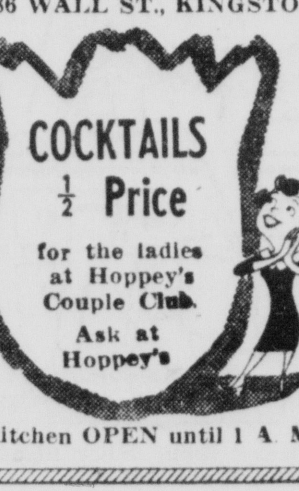

A THREAT: When we want to get back at someone, we might threaten to cook his goose. The allusion is to Eric, the King of Sweden who brought a few soldiers to a town to capture it. The townspeople, feeling reasonably safe against the small number, hung out a goose as a mockery for the king to shoot at. When the king became angered he threatened to "cook their goose."

Play, Visitation Ends Chambers Education Week

"The Kings Balcony," a play, was presented in general assembly last Friday morning at the Chambers School by the Junior League, climaxing American Education Week at the school.

During the week many parents visited the school. A large display in the school corridor emphasized the theme and purpose of American Education Week.

Mrs. Genevieve Cacchillo, who planned and set up the display, received high praise from those visiting the school.

Baby Sisters, 2, 3 Suffocate in Fire

MONTREAL (AP) — Two baby sisters were suffocated Tuesday night in a fire that raged up through a three-story apartment building in northeast Montreal.

About 35 others escaped. Jocelyn Frechette, 3, and her sister Diane, 2, were pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital. Their mother, Mrs. Arthur Frechette, 30, was overcome by smoke but was reported in satisfactory condition.

Fireman Robert Brissette, 23, suffered minor injuries. The fire started in the basement at the rear of the building and spread quickly, filling the upper floors with smoke. It was brought under control in an hour.

Macmillan, Bonn Chief to Avoid Topic of Arms

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer have decided to avoid the controversial topic of limiting arms in central Europe in their friendship-mending talks.

British and West German spokesmen said today both sides had agreed to stay away from the subject after a day of talks in which good progress was reported toward settling some of their differences.

It was Macmillan's visit to Moscow early this year, when he discussed with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev the idea of limiting arms in a zone of central Europe, that excited Adenauer's suspicion of British policy.

Adenauer feared such a policy would start a process of Allied withdrawal that would weaken the Western defensive shield, leaving West Germany exposed to Communist pressure.

Adenauer arrived in London Tuesday for a three-day visit in an effort to clear away months of bickering.

He and Macmillan canceled a second conference this morning to allow their foreign ministers, Selwyn Lloyd and Heinrich von Brentano, to go into more detail on points touched on in the opening meeting.

Cold Wave Dips Into Dixie Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pre-winter cold wave that numbed the Rockies and the mid-continent earlier this week struck the East and the heart of Dixie today with the season's coldest weather.

It was colder in parts of the South—below freezing—than in the snow-covered sections of the Northland, which made a quick recovery after two days of sub-zero blasts.

As gusty northerly winds powered the arctic air into the eastern half of the country, temperatures moderated in the Rockies and north central region. The warming trend followed record low readings for the date in the Midwest Tuesday.

The freezing weather spread southward across the Carolinas, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and south Texas. Temperatures were in the 20s. Some Southern cities matched the 25-degree mark at Anchorage, Alaska. Some of the cold air seeped into northern Florida.

To the north, it was colder, with temperatures in the 20s and teens across the Virginias, Pennsylvania, New York and New England. The icy air also extended over Kentucky and Tennessee. Snow fell in some sections of the Northeast.

It was a comparatively mild 37 above at Rapid City, S.D., and at Denver the mercury was in the low 40s. It was a chilly 25 at Danville, Va., Meridian, Miss., and Tuscaloosa, Ala.; 26 at Greenville, S.C.; 27 at Baton Rouge, La., and San Antonio, Tex.; 28 at Atlanta; 29 at Charlotte, N.C., and 30 at Lake Charles, La.

Health Board Plans Session at Modena

A child health conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at Hasbrouck Hall in Modena on Nov. 24 from 1 to 3 p. m.

The clinics are limited to infant and pre-school children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and polio.

These are well child clinics for the maintenance of health and prevention of disease, not for the care of the sick child. Children under the regular health supervision of a physician are not admitted unless the physician desires this service to be taken over by the Child Health conference. In this manner, duplication of service is avoided, facilitating the work of the private physician, a health official noted.

Some Temperature Moderation Forecast

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The extended weather forecasts for New York State, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7 p. m. today to 7 p. m. Monday:

Eastern New York — Temperatures will moderate during this period, but still will average a few degrees below seasonal normals. Warming trend Thursday and Friday, possibly a bit colder Saturday night and Sunday, and warming again early next week. Precipitation will be light and generally less than one-quarter inch in water content. Other than snow flurries, the next precipitation period is likely about Saturday and again early next week.

Western New York — Seasonable weather is indicated with temperatures averaging a little below normal. Considerable cloudiness and moderating temperatures tonight, Thursday and Friday. A few light snow flurries likely. Some snow and colder over the weekend, with less than one-quarter inch of melted precipitation expected.

Temperature Normals — Normal temperatures in Upstate New York now range from overnight lows in the middle 20s to low 30s, to daytime highs in the 40s.

To Test Missile Copter

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A helicopter armed with six missiles capable of destroying tanks will be tested by the Army Missile Agency in Alabama, the Bell Helicopter Corp. said Tuesday.

The helicopter carries six SS-II missiles made by Nord Aviation of France. The missiles can carry anti-tank, anti-personnel, or smoke warheads, the company said. Maximum practical range of the missiles is 3,500 yards.
